NO. 217—NINETY-EIGHTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 25, 1956 — 10 CENTS DAILY 15 CENTS SUNDAY — 26 PAGES

Coming to B.C.?

British Columbia will play host to Princess Margaret for "an extended period" during centennial celebrations in 1958, a Vancouver newspaper said yesterday, but Premier Bennett declined comment. The newspaper said officials were insisting on "keeping mum" about the visit, which will follow an invitation sent to London some weeks ago.

Military Provocation Charged to U.S. For Warship Hunt in Chinese Waters

Flier's Body Found Amid Wreckage

From AP and UP Dispatches

TAIPEI, Formosa—The search by United States warships and aircraft off the Chinese mainland for survivors of a shot-down U.S. military plane was yesterday called "military provocation" by Communist China authorities.

A Peiping radio broadcast charged that "many" U.S. warships and "54 planes" appeared in the waters and in the air near the Tachen and Sheng Su islands, which lie just off the Chinese mainland.

The broadcast did not state the reason for the Americans' presence.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Navy reported last night that the body of one man from the 16-man crew aboard the patrol plane downed north of Formosa earlier this week has been recovered.

An announcement by the navy also said that "initial examination of the wreckage indicated that the items recovered had been damaged by fire" which presumably broke out aboard the plane after it was attacked Wednesday by unidentified aircraft.

The navy said the body of aviation electronics technician Albert P. Mattin of Delta, Ohio, was found by a destroyer "in international waters off the China coast amid wreckage of the Mercator patrol plane which disappeared after a brief message saying it was under attack.

NO SURVIVORS

No survivors or other bodies were found at the scene, which a navy statement said was some 20 miles closer to Red China's coastline than the patrol plane's "planned flight track."

It reported that the initial search for the plane had been extended from an area farther south toward Formosa "after the report Thursday by Radio Peiping that Chinese Communist planes had attacked a 'Chiang Kai-shek' plane in this area."

NEW DEVELOPMENT

Yesterday's "military provocation" charge against the U.S. has a new development.

Radio Peiping said "from the morning of the 23rd (Thursday) many ships and planes of the U.S. 7th Fleet have appeared in the air and sea southeast of Tachen Island and over Tachen Island."

"Some of the ships penetrated into the waters of the Chu Shan islands on the 24th (Friday,") the broadcast said. "Fifty-four planes have penetrated over Sheng Su 18 times—an act of military provocation."

U.S. CHARGE

The U.S. Navy speculated the plane kept flying after it was damaged since it was unlikely it could drift that far in a day and a half through seas heavily dotted with islands.

UN Fires Russian Snoop

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Viktor Ivanovich Petrov, a Russian, has been fired by the UN and sent home for trying to get secret information on United States aircraft from an American.

This was disclosed Friday in official announcements at the UN and in Washington. It was the third time in UN history that a Soviet national has lost his job at the UN because of attempted espionage.

Joe Smith Boom Starts

Shown getting the bum's rush from Republican convention for daring to nominate Joe Smith for vice-president against the cut-and-dried Nixon ticket, Republican delegate Terry Carpenter found unexpected support for his candidate yesterday when New York press agent Charles Cobb announced launching of an all-out campaign to have Joe Smith elected on a write-in basis.—(CPC)

High Treason Charge Faced By Otto John

KARLSRUHE, West Germany (Reuters) — Former West German intelligence chief Otto John, a two-way traveller across the East-West German border, Friday was charged with high treason.

The handsome, 47-year-old former lawyer posed one of the most intriguing problems of the cold war when he vanished across the East German border on July 20, 1954, only to return to the West 37 months later. A month before his "disappearance" he had returned from a tour of the United States.

John's anti-Nazi, pro - Western record had seemingly fitted him for the role of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's security chief. One of the offices he headed, charged with protection of the constitution had uncovered several Communist intelligence networks in East Germany and been responsible for several convictions.

Why did he go east?

At first the Bonn theory was that he was kidnapped and drugged.

Then came John's voice over the Communist East Berlin radio, savagely attacking Adenauer's policies, declaring they were leading to a revival of nazism and a new world war. John declared, "I have followed the call of my conscience."

At a subsequent press conference in East Berlin, John said Nazi supporters, backed by the United States, were again "gaining the upper hand" in West Germany. John said he had gone east to fight Adenauer's policies.

On Dec. 13 last year, he reappeared in West Germany as mysteriously as he had vanished and voluntarily gave himself up to authorities on suspicion of treason.

He has been held in jail since as security officials investigated his activities in East Germany.

Rocks Protest

Victorians Walk Out In Playoff

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The Victoria Shamrocks walked off the floor at Kerrisdale Arena last night, forfeiting their Inter-City Lacrosse League playoff game to Vancouver Pilseners and possibly forfeiting semi-final series to the mainland team.

Pilseners lead the best-of-five series, two games to one.

The walkoff occurred at 7.47 of the third quarter, when the Shamrocks withdrew to the dressing room in a protest against the refereeing.

Vancouver led 11-5 at the time.

MARSH VS. GILL

The incident that touched off the revolt occurred after Pils' Bobby Marsh had scored his fifth goal of the night.

Chased to the Victoria end by Allen Gill of the Rocks, Marsh became embroiled in a stick-swinging fracas with the island player. Marsh opened a six-stitch cut over Gill's left eye.

Both players were assessed five minutes for fighting.

Victoria, led by playing coach Whitey Severson, held a conference on the bench and then retired to the dressing room.

GRAUER SPEAKS

League president K. Grauer said the Islanders forfeited the game to the Pilseners and said the series may possible be forfeited as well.

A decision will be made at a special meeting Saturday.

Severson said Marsh should have been given a heavier penalty.

"This is the worst refereeing I've ever seen," he declared.

Police had to be called to control crowds asking for their money back. Refunds were made.

Kerrisdale Arena officials said they might in future refuse to let the Victoria team play in the Arena.

Speaker To Run Again

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Speaker Tom Irwin and George Massey, a Ladner boat builder, were nominated by acclamation Friday night as Social Credit candidates for the two-seat Delta riding in the provincial election.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, who spoke at the public meeting, ridiculed a statement made earlier Friday by Rae Eddie, CCF candidate in the neighboring riding of New Westminster.

Mr. Eddie had said Mr. Irwin would be "dumped by the machine."

If Suez War Comes 'Arabs Not Alone'

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev says "the Arabs will not stand alone" if the Suez crisis starts a war.

"It will be a just war and there will be volunteers," Khrushchev said. He spoke to a group of ambassadors from the West and Middle East at a reception marking the 12th anniversary of Romania's liberation from the Nazis.

Khrushchev told the assembled diplomats crowded around him in the plush Sovietskaya Hotel that Russia distinguishes between just wars and unjust wars.

"If Egypt is attacked, it would be a just war for the Arabs," he said. "The British and French should be careful."

Khrushchev fired off his impromptu remarks with his customary boisterous good humor. He interrupted himself with roars of laughter, and the diplomats present joined in occasionally.

"The British are exploiting the Egyptians," Khrushchev said to Hayter.

"We are only defending our rights," Hayter retorted.

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov warned Friday night that serious consequences may result in the Middle East if the West tries to break Egypt's grip on the Suez canal.

The 22-country London conference on Suez is sending a five-power committee to propose international control of the canal to Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, committee chairman, called at the Egyptian Embassy Friday night in the first formal move to arrange a meeting with Nasser in Cairo.

Menzies, in an effort to convince Nasser of the committee's earnestness in seeking talks, turned diplomatic custom upside down to deliver the invitation himself. Ordinarily a prime minister does not call on an ambassador, but waits for the ambassador to call on him.

The Australian leader would not disclose the exact contents of the message he delivered.

Strike Vote Tuesday

Strike vote among 250 employees of 10 major Victoria garages is still scheduled for Tuesday.

Two garages, a union spokesman said yesterday, have signed agreements with the Automotive Maintenance Workers' Federal Union, Local No. 151, for a wage rate of $2 an hour, a 40-hour week and a union shop.

According to a management spokesman, none of the 10 shops affected by the strike vote has signed an agreement.

He suggested the union may have organized two other garages in the city and signed contracts with these. The union spokesman would not identify the garages.

A union meeting is planned for Tuesday night to consider action on the strike vote.

Province-Backed Fanfare To Greet First PGE Train

First official passenger train over the Pacific Great Eastern Railway tracks between North Vancouver and Prince George will leave Monday amid monster, government-sponsored celebrations the length of the line.

Whistle-stop celebrations will take place at most of the small B.C. communities served by the PGE.

Premier Bennett has described the government-owned railway as "the real jewel in our crown." The Social Credit administration has transformed the "Toonerville Trolley" into a profit-making railway which connects the industrialized lower mainland to the resource-filled Peace River district.

Invited guests to travel on the first train will leave from downtown Vancouver early Monday morning by motorcade to the North Vancouver terminus.

There, the last spike will be driven by long-time PGE engineer C. R. Crysdale, a Victoria resident.

Japanese Deny Report

Okinawa Seizure Hinted by Dulles

LONDON (AP)—A high American official said Friday night State Secretary Dulles has told Japan the United States could take possession of Okinawa if Japan recognizes Soviet sovereignty over the southern Kurile islands.

Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu denied that Dulles has made such a statement.

Dulles and Shigemitsu, in London for the Suez conference, have conferred twice.

The Russians occupied the southern Kuriles north of Japan in 1945 and refuse to relinquish them. Control of the islands is the main block in the prolonged Russian-Japanese peace treaty negotiations.

The United States is reported to be worried that Japan, anxious to get the peace treaty, eventually may recognize Russian sovereignty over the islands.

Sailor Given George Medal For Bravery

OTTAWA (CP)—The George Medal, the Commonwealth's second highest award for bravery by a civilian, has been awarded to Ernest Thornhill of West Dover, N.S., for "great bravery" in saving 16 shipmates after their vessel was wrecked off Nova Scotia last January.

Eleven Swimmers Ready

Lumsdon Course Chosen

Mass Strait Assault Starts at 7.15 A.M. Sunday

Zero hour for the mass invasion of Juan de Fuca strait has been set for 7.15 a.m. Sunday.

Eleven marathoners will wade into the water at Horseshoe Bay to start the first annual Victoria to Port Angeles swim sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and radio station CKDA.

Five women and six men will ride out for two hours on the end of a flood tide which will carry them southeast of Victoria.

Under the direction of veteran navigator Capt. Ellice Cavin, the swimmers will follow the same course plotted for the successful Cliff Lumsdon crossing Aug. 16-17.

Capt. Cavin told the coaches and their hopefuls Friday night that he will stay just ahead of the fastest swimmer.

After two hours of flood tide, Capt. Cavin hopes his charges will have an hour of slack water then pick up an ebb tide carrying them southwest to Edz Hook.

About 5 p.m. they should meet the start of a six-foot flood tide and if they are unable to go through it, the course will change to allow the swimmers to ride across to Green Point, Lumsden's landing point.

The navigator expects everything to go according to schedule if a wind does not come up.

If a strong southwest wind rises, it will end everyone's chances, Capt. Cavin said.

After six hours from the start the swim will be official and will not be re-swum. It will start again, if stopped before the six-hour time limit, at 8.30 a.m. from Horseshoe Bay Monday.

Prize money will go to the longest distance if the swim is stopped after six hours or if no one finishes.

The marathon team agreed that only fog or an unfavorable wind could call them out mid-way.

Capt. Cavin said it would not be possible to keep constant checks on everyone during a fog.

"Too many lives would be endangered if we tried to keep going," he said.

The 11 trying for $6,000 prize money are: Janice White, Ladysmith; Anita Long, Victoria; Joan Biddle, Ann Burian and Billie Benedict, Vancouver; Bill Goll, New Jersey; Ben Laughren, Bill Muir and Allan Smith, Victoria; John Lacoursiere, Montreal and John Maslow, Calgary.

The winner will also receive The Daily Colonist perpetual trophy.

Rules for the swim follow those set up for all accredited long-distance swims. The swimmers must not touch the boats or attendants or be touched and pacers are not allowed.

The swimmers themselves? They are all confident they will finish.

Ann Burian said she has practiced every day at English bay in Vancouver and feels sure she will make it.

Bill Goll of Landing, New Jersey, has had fairly wide experience in marathon swims at Atlantic City and Lake Ontario. He placed sixth in the Atlantic City race won by Cliff Lumsdon this year.

Bill and his wife drove for five and a half days from Des Moines, Iowa, to get here.

"That's something of a record for driving," he said. "If I am half as good a swimmer, I'll be okay."

Victoria's Big Ben Laughren, successful in a south-north crossing and veteran of nine other assaults on the strait, is doubtful.

"It will be a 15-hour swim if anybody makes it," he said after carefully studying the course and tides.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

While G. E. Mortimore is on holiday, some of his columns are being repeated in this space.

Repeated from May 29, 1955

HOME brewers are a funny bunch. I used to be one of them myself, so I know.

To start with, they're always eager to test someone else's brew—so they can condemn it. But they don't condemn it to the brewer's face.

"Smm-ahh!" says Brewer Jones, smacking the lips as the first mouthful of alien beer slides down the gullet.

Meanwhile, Brewer Smith is waiting tensely for the verdict.

"What was that remark you made?" Smith asks. "Smm-ahh? Does that mean you like my beer?"

"Man, that brew really has flavor," says Jones. However, he expresses himself in a different way to his wife when he gets outside.

"Poor old Smith is really kidding himself about that so-called beer he makes," the man says. "The stuff's like vinegar."

"You said it had flavor."

"Sure, but I didn't say WHAT flavor."

"Funny," his wife says, "but Smith took me aside and told me confidentially what he thought of your beer. He said he didn't want to hurt your feelings by telling you to your face."

"Well—what did he say?"

"He said it tasted like burned molasses—and poor quality molasses, at that. He winked at me and dumped some of it in a vase when you weren't looking."

"Why, that louse. He told me he'd never tasted anything quite like my beer."

"No, and I'll bet he doesn't want to."

* * *

That's what home brewers are like. Sneaky. Always knocking.

Some brewers have a Secret Recipe that was entrusted to them by an old Scot with his dying breath, on condition that they pass it only to the oldest son.

Others make a great point of following the directions on the malt tin.

Whichever school they belong to, they unite in proclaiming how much better home brew is than the bought product. They stand together in condemning everyone else's beer. Like waspish women, they always find fault with the absent brewer, because he drinks the stuff too green, or smothers it with sugar.

* * *

Sometimes they play tricks.

"How do you like that brew?" Smith will say.

"Not too bad, not too BAD," says Jones, "but frankly, it's not up to your best."

"Right," says Smith. "It's your own beer. I stole a bottle last time I was over."

* * *

I knew a home brewer called Charlie, who said someone had told him to make beer with lemons.

"When I first tried that beer, it tasted like lemonade," he said. "But I've kept it awhile, and now it tastes fine. Lemon taste all gone. Try some."

"Thanks," I said.

"How's it taste?"

"Erp . . . it's delicious," I said.

Between you and me, it tasted like lemon extract. The beer hadn't changed in flavor. Charlie's taste buds had got used to it—that was all.

But when Charlie offered me another bottle, I drank it. That's another funny thing about home brewers. They can't stand other people's brew, yet when pressed only lightly, they'll drink it by the schoonerful.

Thank goodness I'm not brewing any more.

Garden Notes

Fishbone Bush Fungus-Prone

BY M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Those of my gardening friends who are growing Cotoneaster horizontalis in their gardens had better think back and try to remember whether their shrubs carried a normal crop of berries into the winter last year. This attractive "fishbone bush" is subject to a disfiguring fungus disease which attacks the berries and turns them black in early winter.

As a lazy gardener, I don't go in much for indiscriminate dusting and spraying, but where this disease has struck once, it will surely strike again, and this is the time of year when a protective coating of copper fungicide should be sprayed on the Cotoneasters.

Use Bouisol or Peronox at the rate of three tablespoonfuls per gallon of water. If these chemicals are available, the spray or dust you used to prevent blight on your potatoes should do the trick. The job should be completed before the end of the month.

* * *

I am rather surprised, in my wanderings around town, to see so many rhubarb plants which have been allowed to send up flower spikes. This isn't good practice at all, for flowering and setting seed tends to weaken the plant, and flower spikes should always be taken off.

Reach well down near the base of the flower stalk and twist it off—don't try to cut it off. This goes for rhubarb leaf stalks too. You should never cut your rhubarb, but always harvest the stalks by breaking them off at the base with a twisting pull. In this way, there are no stub ends left to rot and to carry infection into the crowns.

* * *

Lavender hedges add an old-world charm to a garden, but like humans, they tend to lose their trim figure in middle age. Once a lavender bush becomes gaunt and untidy and bare at the bottom, there isn't much you can do for it, so it is a good idea to provide some replacement plants by taking cuttings now.

Select shoots about nine inches long and pull them off the old bush, taking a "heel" of old wood along with it. Trim up this heel so there are no ragged edges, insert in sandy soil, and keep well watered until rooted.

If you have an established lavender hedge which hasn't reached the leggy stage yet, it could be given a light trimming now, but hard pruning is best left until spring.

* * *

Did you ever try to earth up your celery plants single-handed? If ever a fellow needed three or four hands, it is on this job, for the plants must be gripped tightly so no dirt falls into the centres while soil is being mounded up around them.

The best gimmick I have run into is a pair of trouser clips—the kind you use for riding a bicycle. Simply slip them on a pair of celery plants, mound up the soil, then move them down the row to the next two plants, and so on.

If you are growing your celery in a trench, don't forget that it is going to be very difficult to get water down to the roots after the trench is filled in, so give your plants a long, long drink before starting on the blanching process.

King Fisherman

As Standards Rise, Crests Harder To Win

It is getting increasingly difficult to win the coveted crests in The Daily Colonist's King Fisherman Contest.

Crests are given each month to the anglers weighing in the 20 largest salmon in each of the tyee, coho and spring divisions, and also to the anglers entering the 20 largest trout.

Trout fishing in the lakes which produce the big ones is practically at a standstill, but competition is keen in the salmon divisions.

With a week's entries yet to come, indications are that it may take a 28-pound spring salmon, a nine-pound coho and a 40-pound tyee to win a crest. And if fishing improves in the remaining days of the month, those figures may even be higher.

Meanwhile, entries now total almost 2,500 and continue to come in at the rate of about 300 a week. Latest entries received follow:

Finlayson Statement

Party Platform Given by Tories

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) — Deane Finlayson, B.C. Progressive Conservative leader, announced Thursday night his party's platform in the Sept. 19 provincial election.

The platform included a plank saying the Progressive Conservatives will press in the new legislature for publication of detailed accounts by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Mr. Finlayson addressed a nominating convention in the West Vancouver Legion Hall which chose him as candidate for the party in the two-member riding of North Vancouver. No other candidate was chosen Thursday night.

SUMMONS SERVED

As Mr. Finlayson entered the hall he was served with a summons to appear in court Monday on contempt of court charges in connection with statements he made Tuesday about the Sturdy-Sommers case.

The Progressive Conservative party had no members in the last legislature. Mr. Finlayson said PC members in the new legislature would be pledged to seek:

Agriculture — A provincial farm loan fund to make long-term low-interest capital loans to farmers for productive purposes.

Education — Extension of adult education at the university level throughout the province; religious education for those school children whose parents wish them to have it.

MUNICIPAL AID

Finance—Grants in lieu of municipal taxes on provincial government properties; highway grants on an equal basis to all municipalities; equal per capita grants to municipalities of at least $16 per person; abolition of the fuel oil tax.

Forests—A full examination of forest administration based on the forthcoming recommendations of the present Sloan commission.

Highways — An independent highway planning commission to determine the need for and location of highways and bridges and to set basic engineering standards of construction; open public tendering on all highway and public works contracts.

Labor—Equal pay for equal work by women; a full-time board of industrial relations; broader provisions and administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act to provide coverage and protection to miners disabled by tuberculosis caused by silicosis.

Power—Establishment of a water conservation board to regulate the use of water for power, irrigation, municipal, domestic and industrial purposes.

LARGE FAMILY

MARKDALE, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. William Stoddart, 80, has more descendants than she has years of life. Mother of 10 children, she has 50 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Man Jailed For Gross Indecency

A 50-year-old man was sentenced to three years in B.C. penitentiary in police court yesterday after he pleaded guilty to three charges of gross indecency.

Edward A. Vanderlip, 534 Michigan, had been convicted earlier this week in juvenile court of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Vanderlip had a long criminal record, court was told, including an earlier gross indecency charge and five years in jail at Winnipeg for manslaughter and robbery.

* * *

Robert Musgrove's part in cashing a worthless $42 cheque cost him three months in Oakalla yesterday.

Magistrate A. T. Thomas had earlier convicted Musgrove, 2705 Cook, who had pleaded not guilty to the charge. An accomplice, Walter Carter, was earlier given a two-year suspended sentence for his part in the cheque-cashing in a downtown cafe.

* * *

Ian McFaul, HMCS Naden, was fined $200 after he pleaded guilty to taking a car without the owner's consent early yesterday.

Norman Carmichael, Vancouver automotive supply dealer, was put on six months suspended sentence for obtaining lodgings at the Empress hotel by fraud. He promised immediate restitution of the $109 bill incurred over 10 days.

Court had been told earlier that Carmichael left the hotel hurriedly without paying his bill because he was ill. He is a respected businessman in Vancouver, it was stated.

Blowing your own horn can be expensive.

Peter H. Scheeren, 645 Goyette road, found that out when he was fined $10 for "unecessary sounding" of his car horn.

* * *

Christopher Paul Morgan, 205 Beach drive, was fined $50 for driving carelessly Aug. 10. He pleaded guilty.

Court was told he was following a car too closely on Douglas street and, when it stopped his vehicle crashed into its rear, causing $300 damage.

Allowing minors to play in a pool room cost William B. Lang of Gibson Billiard Room, 918 Yates, $25 or five days in jail.

Lang, who had reversed his earlier plea of not guilty, had been warned before about allowing minors on the premises, court was told.

* * *

Maurice A. Gauthier, 2760 Belmont avenue, was fined $35 or five days after he pleaded guilty to careless driving July 31. He was involved in an accident at the roundabout.

* * *

Speeding cost two persons $25 and $5 costs in Colwood court. They were John R. Morford of Duncan and Robert George Montgomery, 4057 Cordova Bay road.

Henry Dong, 721 Discovery, was fined $15 and $3 costs for speeding.

Tax Plan A Bribe, CCF Says

Premier W. A. C. Bennett's plan to pay the first $28 of house-owners' taxes constitutes an attempt to bribe the voters, Saanich CCF candidate Frank Snowsell suggested Thursday to an informal gathering in the Marigold garage.

"There is legislation in B.C. which provides severe penalties for a candidate attempting to bribe either directly or indirectly. Once my nomination has been formally accepted by the returning officer, I could be prosecuted under the Corrupt Practices Act for buying you chaps a cup of coffee," Mr. Snowsell said.

"What do you suppose would happen to me if I promised that if I were elected, I'd pay every garage man in Saanich $28?"

Mr. Snowsell said the government should give the $8,000,000 that the proposed tax payments are estimated to total "through the recognized legal channels to the municipal authorities, leaving the municipal councils free to lower taxes or to extend municipal services, as they see fit."

Task of the Twentieth Century

WITHOUT question the great task of the present century will be to outlaw war and make it impossible on a world plane. When he said so simply at the Republican nominating convention, President Dwight G. Eisenhower was not only committing his party to a solemn pledge but also was voicing the humbly fervent wish of countless millions of people throughout the globe. His statement serves as a declaration that the West is sincere in its efforts to establish stable conditions in the world, and will offset the utterances of extremists and sabre-rattlers who at times are more voluble than wise.

Not from Mr. Eisenhower as presidential candidate of his party, but from the former supreme commander of Allied arms on the western front in the last holocaust these words come with impressive directness and honesty: "It is not enough to promise the young who fight the wars that there will be 'peace in our time.' There is only one peace now, and that is the peace for all time. Thermonuclear war has become not just tragic, but preposterous. With such weapons there can be no victory for anyone. Plainly the objective must now be to see that such a war does not occur at all." There spoke the soldier and a statesman, happily allied. Mr. Eisenhower's words will carry weight and meaning everywhere.

Setting aside the world's mistakes and the regrets of the past, there is the aim of the United Nations Charter—to establish peace in the world. It was the first thought, and the deepest one, of the 42 founder-nations which set up and composed the first UN assembly at San Francisco in 1945, even while war raged. No one believed then that the aim could be reached either easily or soon. Yet in spite of the setbacks, the delays and wrangling on the international scene, the vision is there and it is the most important one that humanity has held in a millenium. There was nothing defeatist or apologetic in Mr. Eisenhower's declaration, which was the comment of a leader and a brave man.

The way ahead may be difficult and progress be obscured at times, but there can be no surrender of this vision. The fact that peace is a full co-operative effort and cannot be obtained unilaterally has long been impressed on the world. But to lay aside the thought of recourse to conflict in securing national or international ends is the positive expression of the pledge which forms the central aim of the Charter and gives to the United Nations the only effective human force it has. It is all men's wish to compose the world. There, above all else, is the task of the Twentieth Century.

Championship Performance

THOUSANDS of Victorians crowded the Dallas road waterfront on Thursday evening in unprecedented enthusiasm as Miss Marilyn Bell finished a triumphant swim across the strait in record time. This was ample proof of the interest and pride Canadians have taken in the achievements of this young Toronto girl, as modest in bearing as she is doughty in endeavor. Hers was a truly championship performance, carried through with great determination, and she has now added Juan de Fuca to her Lake Ontario and English Channel laurels. For a girl her age her marathon swimming is remarkable.

Miss Bell more than made up for her first unsuccessful attempt to swim the Victoria-Port Angeles route across what is one of the most formidable stretches of water extant. She chose the reverse direction this time, and in spite of choppy seas and adverse conditions that made victory seem unlikely she stroked her way in splendid form, overcoming all difficulties. She thus becomes the first woman to swim the full strait width and the first Canadian to conquer the south-to-north passage. The quality of the swimming prowess of this slip of a girl may also be gauged from her fast progress—she easily beat the time recorded by Messrs. Thomas and Lumsdon, the only other conquerors of the recognized strait marathon and both big powerfully-built men.

The strait swimming season is now almost over for at least another year. Tomorrow the Jaycees' mass swim will be staged, a novel departure from other attempts, when 10 contenders will try to reach the Port Angeles area from the Victoria waterfront. Only the other Torontonian, Mr. Cliff Lumsdon, has conquered the strait in this direction so far. If example is a precept then they will be spurred to great effort by the shining success of Miss Marilyn Bell, who has certainly lived up to the lustre of her reputation. She is a credit to her coach and to her family.

'New Aklavik, N.W.T.'

ANOTHER name has been added to the official atlas of Canada: "New Aklavik," at the still-changing outlet of the Mackenzie river. It was there that the Northwest Territories Council sat this week, in a cabin on the site of the relocated settlement across the river from the old one—both well within the Arctic Circle. Like any other embryo parliament, the Council was said to have problems. Cheap transportation on the Mackenzie river, a more permanent and stable substitute for the present boom in DEW and other defence work and payrolls, a 400-mile railway even to link up with the rest of steel in Canada. In time some of these things may come, but there are a few hills to settle first.

Parliament has heard frequent whispers of "New Aklavik." It has been asked often of the government what the total cost has been. There have been assertions in the House of Commons that moving cabins, offices and other appurtenances across the delta of the Mackenzie has been an expensive undertaking. Added to this have been the new buildings, the new offices, storage houses and so forth. Some opposition members have been unkind enough to say that the moving and relocation of this small Arctic outpost a few hundred yards' distance on the delta has run into a king's ransom. So far the government has not replied; though it has spoken often of the "difficulties of the terrain."

No doubt it is a difficult terrain. One wonders how the first settlers faced it, long before the airplane was invented. Some arrived by boat to plunge directly into an outright wilderness. Others came by canoe after long voyages down the great river. But none of them had a Northwest Territories Council in residence to appraise their needs or to ease their wants. They had to make good on their own and that is what they did. But because the relocation of Aklavik is public business and will be paid for out of the public purse, perhaps the administration should unbend sufficiently to tell the nation now what the bill has been. Is it $50,000,000, as some have asserted, or $5,000,000?

Economic Aid for Malta

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Integration of Malta with Britain isn't such an early bet as it once appeared.

The tiff between Maltese Prime Minister Dom Mintoff and the British governor in Valetta, Sir Robert Laycock, is regarded here as a symptom that all is not well in efforts to unite the Mediterranean island with the United Kingdom.

The squabble arose during early moments of the Suez canal crisis when Britain flew amphibian planes into Malta. Mintoff protested he had not been consulted about a local radio announcement warning fishermen to keep clear of bays where the flying boats were to land.

This dispute was settled amicably and plancs have since landed with full Maltese co-operation.

"But," comments The Economist, a weekly British magazine, "it shows how easily the two sides of the dyarchy—the Maltese and the Imperial—can get across each other and underlines the importance of the proposals made by the roundtable conference for improving consultations between them."

The conference, an all-party affairs set up by Britain, recommended that Malta should have the right of choosing whether it wished to send three MPs to Westminster in complete integration with Britain. A referendum in Malta favored this, but the majority was not as clearcut as some wished.

The islanders were expected to have another chance of expressing their feeling on integration, this time in a general election which probably would have been called next year. Before such a vote, Britain was expected to reveal the draft of a new constitution for Malta, including a plan for integration.

But now, with frequent bickering from Malta, colonial observers are not as certain that the constitution and election will take place as originally expected.

One disrupting factor is the continuing dispute between Malta and the British government over economic aid. Mintoff wanted far more from the U.K. than Britain was willing to offer. The latest episode occurred when Mintoff claimed his government soon would not have enough cash on hand to pay government salaries.

The colonial office replied by announcing that since April 1 the Maltese government has received £2,208,282. A few days later it was announced that Britain will give immediately at least £500,000 to stave off a crisis. One report said Mintoff considered this a major victory.

But the British view was said to be that Mintoff's assumptions were premature—that nothing had been finally settled.

It is in this atmosphere of friction that ultimate moves toward integration now are

Scores Again

By FRANK KELLEY

SPECTATOR interest as displayed in the Royal Canadian Navy's multiple-sized programme of sailorly practices, serious and mirth-provoking, must have been highly gratifying to "all hands and the cooks" who wear the square and round rigs fashioned for the men who go down to the sea and serve this Canadian land afloat; and who individually and collectively spared no effort to make their biggest gala Navy Day of a recent week devoted to the service the best ever seen by residents of Greater Victoria, long familiar with the presence of naval craft based in Esquimalt Harbor and flying the White Ensign.

This great interest was manifest from the moment the throngs poured into the City proper, jam-packed the streets along the route of the splendidly organized and well-marshalled parade, featuring marching men in uniform swinging along rhythmically to the band music of their fellows, and pressed on following the long blue line of the procession to Beacon Hill park, ideally situated for the accomodation of the crowds assembled to watch their Navy in the varied demonstrations of peace-time efficiency as well as fun-fringed diversions practiced ashore and afloat.

Impressed with the diversity of the day-long programme and the smoothness with which every worthwhile detail was presented, one could not help but recall some other years when the Royal Canadian Navy was in the making stages when rank and file were not all as happy as they seemed to be on this recent Navy Day owing to the miserly attitude of Ottawa powers that were towards anything pertaining to the country's naval fitness after the British Admiralty had succeeded in convincing our parliament the admirable thing for Canada to do would be to assume a fair share of Empire responsibilities and help carry the burden shouldered so long by the Mother Country.

Remembering those days when Rainbow and Niobe, a pair of submarines and a few gunboats like Algerine and Shearwater, comprised our Navy's sea-going strength with some six thousand officers and men; as well as recalling the year 1939 when with a few better-rated naval craft the man-strength had dwindled to 131 officers and 1,700 men. At that, we like to think of a day in May, 1939, as well, when interest in the RCN took another large crowd to Beacon Hill. That was the occasion when His Majesty, King George VI presented his Color to the Pacific Command.

A Navy jealous of its responsibilities in the line of defence is something the Canadian people should be proud of and maintain. Folk who resided hereabouts when the war of 1914-18 started will remember the real fear it caused Southern Vancouver Islanders, a fear which was somewhat abated when Premier Richard McBride authorized the purchase of two submarines which had been built at Seattle for Chili. They relieved fear tension when they arrived in Esquimalt Harbor; for von Spee's squadron was at that time supposed to be in the North Pacific and figured in a probable attack on Canada's naval bastion in the North Pacific.

"Good show" are the most fitting words one can think of, echoing what everyone was saying as the RCN's recent Navy Day progressed and ended. All who contributed to the day-long programme of colorful events, either planning or perfecting, won the appreciative applause of local throngs that day and should deserve well of a Canada expressing a visible readiness to accept full responsibility as a nation in a Commonwealth of countries flying the White Ensign.

Reports from Ottawa

THERE are two explanations of the very large increase in air force flying pay which the government authorized to go into effect retroactively to July 1. One is the official reason—which, you might say, the government also authorized. The other is the real reason.

For the official side, we go to Defence Minister Campney. "The increase," said he, "is in recognition of the professional character and responsibilities involved in aircrew duties, and the high qualifications required today."

For the real reason we go to the air force itself. People there don't dispute the minister's buttery statement, but they show that it is exceedingly superficial.

"We haven't been able to compete price-wise for recruits," a personnel officer explained, "and we're losing too many trained men to the airlines."

Another officer wearing the second highest rank insignia in the services, indicated the glamor of flying is a fading asset for the air force. "Young fellows today," he said, "tell us 'No thanks. I'll go ground crew. That way I'll live longer'."

Thirty dollars a month, the standard RCAF flying pay since World War II, is not only much less than American fliers draw—it is even less than the British and Russians get.

By increasing that $30 to a minimum of $75 and a maximum of $150, depending on rank, the air force is trying to overcome a shortage of pilots and observers which has not been reduced appreciably in the last year despite emphasis on recruiting. The size of the aircrew shortage is considered a military secret, but the overall RCAF officer shortage, including desk-flying types, was admitted several months ago to be about 500.

The other services have similar shortages, but two facts make that of the air force particularly serious. One is that the air force, rather than the army and navy, is now Canada's main defence against attack. And the other is that the RCAF does not have enough fliers to put up an adequate defence against nuclear bombers which might be despatched from Russia. It is most likely the American air force would step in to do the job.

In this column Thursday I pointed out the likelihood of this happening if the RCAF doesn't re-equip with supersonic jets. So far as the Americans are concerned, the situation would be the same if we had the jets but not enough pilots to fly them.

The low birth rate of the 1930's and the great demand of expanding industry for bright young men are responsible for the insufficient supply of aircrew. The much higher wartime and postwar birth rates will result in a greater supply of suitable recruits by 1961, but the air force can't wait.

Right now it's a case of too many jobs pursuing too few people. The people the air force wants are taking better jobs in industry—jobs the RCAF has not been able to match in terms of money, promotion, security, pensions and other benefits.

It is thus wholly superficial to contend that the government raised the rates of flying pay to recognize the "professional character and responsibilities" of aircrew duties. The air force's story makes more sense, especially to people who realize that this increase is coming out of their pockets, in taxes.

Puff Ball Time

By GREGORY CLARK

IT is coming close to puff ball time. The joys of the harvest may be confined to farmers and their relatives close enough to be invited out to share the feasts of autumn. But there are city slickers who look upon harvest time with an eye to only one thing: the handsome fat round presence of a giant puff ball mushroom along a pasture fence. The back roads of a whole realm will soon be patrolled by slow-driving cars, the passengers all intent upon the far horizon. They are watching for puff balls.

Puff ball hunters are not mycologists. They would shudder at the thought of eating any other wild mushroom picked in the fields or woods. There is only one jewel for them. It is a great silky puff ball, the size of an association football up to the size of a most respectable pumpkin. And its discovery is a delight comparable only to that of an angler who catches a forty-pound muskie or a thirty-pound trout.

There are several aspects to finding a puff ball. First, there is the sense of capture, of discovery, of treasure trove.

Then there is the pleasure of first cutting it in half to see that it is pure and white, with neither insect hole nor any tendency towards the yallery-greenery tinge which portends the decay of the noble structure. It must have the texture of fresh baker's machine-made bread, moist, featureless, purest white.

Next there is the pleasure of giving a few slices to only the most selected friends and neighbors.

Finally, there is the joy of cooking and eating it. I know plenty of people who, on being taken out to dinner by well-heeled friends and offered a T-bone steak with mushrooms, will decline the mushrooms and take the steak; yet, will travel 100 rural miles on a weekend, trying to find one puff ball.

It can be fried in butter. It can be treated like a pancake, fried with just a bare lick of butter to keep it from sticking; or sauteed so that it fairly drips. It can be grilled, broiled, and I have known gourmets to bake it lightly.

But the strangest thing I have seen was a farmer eating fried puff ball with maple syrup.

Any fashion it is good. And it will be here directly.

With the Classics

Neither a borrower nor a lender be;
For loan oft loses both itself and friend
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.
This, above all, to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

Reflections On a Pool

By ORMOND MARRION

THE bright person who first pinned the name Harrison Yacht Springs on the model boat pool at Holland Point had better step forward in a hurry if he wants his name recorded with his brilliance.

For a time it looked as if Harrison Yacht Springs might become Smith's Economy Skating Rink. Alderman J. Donald Smith proposed that it should be frozen artificially for several months of the year so that Victorians could skate outdoors at negligible cost.

That idea seems to have been thoroughly spurned by city council, but a new name for the pool may be in the offing.

The pool has been in use since June as a model boat pond, not too successfully.

Model yacht fans soon found that the pool was not ideal for sailing, especially competitive sailings, because the breeze reached it fitfully and from one direction one minute, another the next, baffled by the heavy screen of bushes and trees to seaward.

The Optimists, who have encouraged the building of model yachts, asked that the bushes, but not the trees be removed. The parks administrator took the request to the parks committee of council. The parks committee expressed some fear that removal of the bushes might allow the cliff to collapse.

But the chairman, Alderman Robert Macmillan, and Alderman Mrs. Lily Wilson were delegated to take a look at the situation, to see if cutting one or two gaps in the bushes would solve the problem.

That was several weeks ago. A few days ago, Alderman Macmillan expressed reluctance to cut the bushes at all.

Gaps would make it too breezy for people who wanted just to sit and look at the pond, he thought.

So there we have it. Macmillan Mediation Pool. Please Think Quietly.

The provincial government apparently would be agreeable to the Capital Improvement District Commission taking over, developing and operating as a park the city's valuable Elk-Beaver Lake property, but not to paying for it.

The majority of city council is believed to be adamantly against giving the property away.

As far as has been learned, there has been no discussion at council, commission or cabinet level of two alternatives to the present approach.

One is for the province to avoid an all-or-nothing attitude. The city could sell at a good price to private buyers a substantial portion of the property that is not essential to park development, and could, as a result, perhaps give the province a better-than-fair deal on the park land.

The other alternative, probably with more merit, is that the city could continue to own the property. No reason springs to mind why the commission should not develop and operate a park while holding the land under a long-term, $1-a-year lease from the city.

In the recent series of articles on beach access, reference was made to Mellor road, off Hart road just beyond Parsons Bridge, being closed off by a gate.

That's not Mellor road, the owner of the Mellor property has pointed out. The "Mellor" sign beside the gate is wrongly placed, and should be on a road allowance closer to the old highway. A road surveyed beside the Mellor property, on what was Hudson's Bay Company land, she says, is now closed in for national defence.

Youth Section Liberals' Pledge

Leader Arthur Laing Outlines Platform

VANCOUVER (CP) — Arthur Laing, B.C. Liberal leader, said last night that Liberals would establish a department of youth affairs under a responsible minister.

"The opportunities and the problems facing young people today justify this decision," Mr. Laing said.

The Liberal leader said B.C.'s problems are problems of expansion. He spoke of the "prodigious sums" being spent on roads and bridges.

"We Liberals think that a planned consecutive program of priorities with target dates for completion would give us better roads cheaper."

A 37-year-old lumber worker and two housewives were chosen last night as LPP candidates for Victoria in the provincial election.

Nominated at a convention attended by provincial leader Nigel Morgan were Ernest Knott, Mrs. Doris Blakey and Mrs. Myrtle Bergren. In the 1953 provincial election Mrs. Blakey was a candidate in Victoria and Mrs. Bergren ran in Cowichan-Newcastle.

DUNCAN — Social Crediters will stoop to all kinds of barefaced tricks, says Esquimalt Liberal candidate George Whittaker.

At a political meeting last night, he disclosed that he had rented property to a Social Credit follower, who promptly sub-let it to a colony of nudists.

"When I tried to run 'em off, they put a caveat on my land and I'm stuck with 'em for three years," he said. "But I'm going to put bees next door."

George Whittaker, Esquimalt Liberal candidate, will open his election campaign with a speech in the Shawnigan Lake athletic hall at 8 p.m. Monday.

* * *

DUNCAN — R. J. Harvey, Liberal candidate for this riding, said Friday the B.C. Power Commission has refused to sell power at low cost to a large chemical company which had proposed erecting a plant in the riding.

"The B.C. government policy appears to have stopped the construction of a caustic soda and chemical factory side by side with the Crofton pulp mill," he said.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. John T. McCay and Perry Millar were chosen as Liberal candidates Thursday night for the two-member riding of Vancouver Burrard.

* * *

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP) — Tony Gargrave, CCF member of the legislature since 1952, was nominated unanimously Thursday night as party candidate for Mackenzie riding in the forthcoming—provincial election.

Mr. Gargrave said contempt of court citations on the part of former Lands Minister Sommers against Progressive Conservative Leader Deane Finlayson and two Vancouver newspapers is a "shoddy attempt to limit the scope of election debate.

* * *

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Labor Progressive party announced Thursday it has abandoned plans to contest two Vancouver East seats in the Sept. 19 provincial election.

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP) —H. E. Roche, Fort St. John store operator, was nominated Thursday night as Social Credit candidate in the new provincial riding of North Peace for the Sept. 19 general election.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan will enter the British Columbia election campaign Labor Day with a speech at Dawson Creek, CCF headquarters announced yesterday.

He may join CCF leader Robert Strachan's campaign in the northern part of the province.

Buried Hours by Cave-In, Injured Sewer Worker Dies

EDMONTON (CP)—One of four sewer workers who were trapped in a cave-in late Friday died shortly after the mishap while two others were in hospital with undetermined injuries.

The fourth man scrambled to safety and was released from hospital after treatment for minor injuries.

John Belder, 22, died from injuries he received when he was buried to the neck for two hours.

Victor Yamda, 21, was believed by hospital authorities to have suffered a broken leg while Marion Bertoncini, 23, suffered leg lacerations, a possible broken foot and other injuries.

Basil Litwin, 37, was released from hospital after treatment.

Two of the men were working in a 25-foot ditch in the city's new residential Hardisty district on the south side when the clay and sand wall of the ditch collapsed.

The two other men jumped in to help them but a second cave-in occurred.

Litwin scrambled to safety [illegible] jumped into four-foot wide sewer pipes for protection and crawled through them to a safer spot in the ditch.

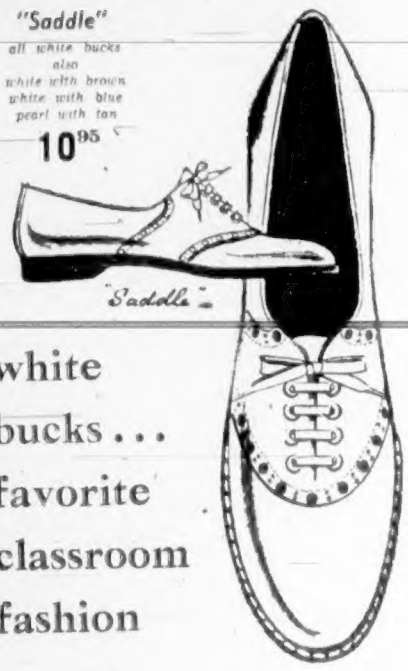

Belder was unable to save himself and was buried for two hours until fellow employees dug him out. He was dead on arrival at hospital.

The men were employees of Voice Construction Co., Ltd., working on a city sewer project.

Noted Briton To Visit Here

Prominent British Labor party member Richard H. Crossman, MP, will make an informal five-day holiday visit to Victoria, starting Sunday.

Editor of the New Statesman and Nation since 1938, he is in the course of a cross-Canada vacation trip.

'Raiding' Charge Levelled at UBC

WINNIPEG (CP) — Comptroller W. J. Condo of the University of Manitoba said Friday the University of British Columbia committed a "reprehensible act" in luring away the entire staff of Manitoba's education faculty this spring.

He was commenting on the departure of Dean Neville Scarfe, Miss Grace Dolmage, Dr. Harry L. Stein, Dr. Joseph Katz and Prof. B. R. Whitinger, all of whom are joining the staff of the new college of education at UBC.

"The raiding of the entire faculty was reprehensible action on the part of the board of governors and president of the University of British Columbia — and other universities feel the same way," Mr. Condo said.

Dr. Norman MacKenzie, UBC president, yesterday denied the allegation.

Dr. MacKenzie said UBC advertised widely in British Columbia, in all Canadian provinces and in other parts of the English-speaking world.

"The people who seemed best-suited to our needs were put in a list of priority and invited to come at the salaries we normally pay for people already on our staff with similar qualifications of education, experience and ability," he said. "We did not bargain with anybody.

Morgan's had a problem!

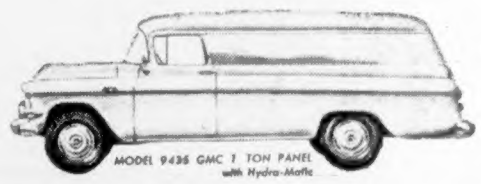

Morgan's of Montreal had a problem. It was caused by three factors; a heavy volume of deliveries, congested traffic conditions and the need to carry all shapes and sizes of merchandise to and from their four stores.

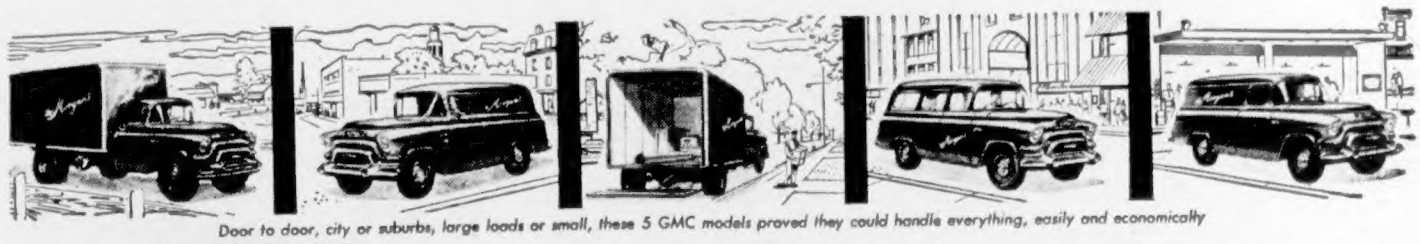

However, GMC was the answer to Morgan's problem . . . with Standard Units. Here's how it was done. Morgan's chose 4 Standard Models—½-ton model 9515 panel, 1-ton model 9435 panel, the M350 and FM350 to handle all their transport needs for home delivery, warehouse to stores, shipping runs. Their personnel transport is smooth-running nowadays, too, thanks to a GMC model 101 suburban.

One important feature resulting in increased driver efficiency, lower maintenance costs—and lower personnel turnover—is Hydra-Matic transmission on all units. To sum it all up, Morgan's had a serious problem—GMC was the right answer.

MODEL 101 GMC SUBURBAN CARRYALL with Hydra-Matic

MODEL 9435 GMC 1 TON PANEL with Hydra-Matic

Door to door, city or suburbs, large loads or small, these 5 GMC models proved they could handle everything, easily and economically

GMC was the answer!

Yes, GMC with Hydra-Matic was the answer to Morgan's problem . . . and GMC can be the answer to your problems, too. Whatever your trucking job—whatever the payload or the problem—GMC can handle it. Because GMC has the only truck line that handles every trucking need, with the world's widest range of models, transmissions, engines and rear axles.

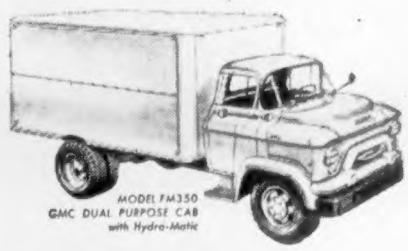

GMC offers GVW's from 5,000 lbs. to a whopping 59,000 lbs; 12 V-8 or 6 engines ranging from 140 to a tremendous 225 horsepower. With standard and automatic transmissions and virtually no limit to the rear axles and ratios available, GMC offers a truck to serve any industry, match any load requirement.

No matter what your trucking problem may be, there's a GMC truck to solve it—quickly, efficiently, dependably, economically.

Hollywood Mufflers They May Annoy But They're Legal

Mufflers that don't muffle are illegal.

But the much noisier types favored by local hot-rodders come within the bounds of the law.

This was disclosed at a meeting of the city police commission yesterday, when police chief John Blackstock presented a report of his department's activities for July.

Chief Blackstock told commissioner Gordon Carter that although the "Hollywood" and other types of mufflers make more noise, people using them cannot be prosecuted. Persons can only be prosecuted for having no muffler or an inadequate one.

Mr. Carter had complained of the "Yates and Douglas street kids who create havoc" by racing up and down at night.

The police department report showed that $3,201.35 in stolen property was reported during July and $872.50 recovered.

One person was killed in an auto accident and 20 injured. Seven persons were escorted to Esquimalt. Twenty-two bicycles were lost, but all but three recovered.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dealings were mostly routine and dull on the Winnipeg grain exchange, with prices closing generally lower.

Limited commercial demand showed in all grains, and was mostly of a domestic character in oats and barley. Oats also attracted light American interest while U.S. processors were small buyers in barley. Prices of both moved slowly.

Flax showed a little better activity, with domestic crushers and American shippers buying on recessions. Prices were irregular.

Rye was lower throughout in mostly local trade.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and rye scored modest gains on the board of trade. A letup in hedging pressure and minor short covering prior to the weekend supported the advance.

Other grains were erratic. September corn advanced about a cent at times but new crop corn could get ahead only small fractions.

Good lambs strong to .25 higher at 17-18.25.

Bailey Selburn Leads Rally In Oil Stocks

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials weakened at the close but western oils, on the strength of a good buying spurt in the final 15 minutes, closed well ahead.

The majority of price changes was fractional although a few key issues, especially among industrials, had gains or losses ranging as high as 2½ points.

International Paper lost 2½ points on a light turnover among industrials. Ogilvie was off 1⅜ and Canadian Western Lumber 1¼.

International Nickel, up 1⅜ points, and Noranda, up a point, paced the senior base metals to higher ground. Iron Bay featured juniors, gaining 35 cents.

Bailey-Selburn sparked western oils with a 1⅞-point advance. The losses were higher-ranged among the lower-priced western oils with Canadian Prospect off 30 cents, Dome Explorations (Western) 25 cents and Canadian Williston 15 cents.

Noranda Advances

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrials were irregularly higher and a firm undertone was evident.

Base metals were strong as Noranda advanced 1⅛ and Aluminium gained one. Papers were spotty with Price up ⅞ and St. Lawrence Corporation and Powell River down ½.

Pipe lines were mixed with Trans Mountain down ½ and Interprovincial ahead a similar fraction. Power Corporation advanced one point in the utilities.

In miscellaneous trade General Dynamics, Industrial Acceptance and CIL were ahead in a ¾-point range.

No definite trend was established in the mines. In the senior oils Bailey-Selbourn moved up 1⅜.

Aircrafts Lead

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks made a quiet advance in the weekend session.

Aircrafts registered gains ranging to more than a point. Garrett Corp. (Aircraft Accessories) set a new high on a rise of more than 2 points.

Rails outpaced industrials on a percentage basis with a long list of them up small amounts. Steels produced several strong spots. So did the non-ferrous metal group. Building issues perked up, and a long list of specials registered good gains. Utilities sagged averagewise on declines in two issues.

Texas & Pacific Railway ran up more than 3 points to feature the rails where otherwise gains held to fractions. Socony-Mobil was up more than a point in the oils. Halliburton gained nearly 2 in the oil equipments. Miami Copper and U.S. Smelting set new highs, the latter up nearly 3 points. Gains in the building group ran to more than 2 in Georgia Pacific Corp.

Coppers Move Up

VANCOUVER — Copper shares took a stronger turn during the session with Bethlehem up 20 cents at 2.90, and Trojan up 10 cents at 53 cents. Cowichan Copper added two cents at 1.47.

Pacific Nickel found support at 60 cents, while Silver Standard added five cents at 55 cents.

Van Tor was strong among oils, adding 5 cents at 2.04. Yankee Princess advanced to 1.10 but closed at 1.05.

Midwest Gas weakened to 4.50 among industrials, but Lucky Lager slipped 10 cents to 4.50. Inland Natural Gas was off 25 cents at 8⅛.

Could Be Dangerous

Watch That Wage Spiral!

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Some time ago H. R. MacMillan, and other leading industrialists, warned the B.C. government that its huge pre-election development projects were creating too many jobs for the existing labor force, and that a dangerous wage spiral would result.

The government took no notice.

Now here is a true story which shows that Mr. MacMillan may have had something.

A 17-year-old high school boy accepted a job in early spring with the government's forestry department at $3 a day.

Later another government corporation, the B.C. Power Commission offered him $7 a day on a survey job on Vancouver Island.

The boy switched to the higher paid job, and he had not been working very long before he was made another offer from one of the private contracting firms on the same project. The wage offered was $10 a day.

Not long after another and bigger contracting firm offered the boy $17 as a driller's helper.

The wage advance from $3 to $17 a day is nice work for the youngster, but it is also rank inflation.

The contractor desperate for labor is merely outbidding the government on its own job.

In the end the taxpayer will meet the bill.

The same thing is happening all over the country. Employers are throwing in gimmicks of all types to attract workers. Some offer unlimited overtime at fancy rates; other give bonuses to those who will see the job on hand to a completion.

The federal government has known for months that Canada was in grave danger of overstepping itself.

It issued warnings largely unheeded; it increased interest rates; it clamped down on credit, but it failed to apply the brakes.

In retrospect it may be argued that Ottawa wasn't tough enough to enforce the steps it knew were required.

INTO OIL BUSINESS

Pacific Petroleums, the company which has pioneered the natural gas industry in northeastern B.C. announces today that it has gone into the oil refining business.

A major interest has been bought in the X-L Refineries Ltd. refinery at Dawson Creek, which went on stream recently and is owned by Excelsior Refineries of Edmonton.

The refinery which has a capacity of 3,000 barrels a day is the first in the Peace River area.

George L. McMahon, president of Pacific Petroleum says the interest has been purchased in the refinery to process oil which his company has found recently in British Columbia.

Details of recent oil strikes in the Peace River area have been scanty, but with Imperial, Texaco and other leading companies all at work, it is regarded as only a matter of time before the Peace River will produce all its own oil and have plenty for export as well.

The Dawson Creek refinery will be operated in conjunction with the new $20,000,000 gas processing plant being built by Pacific Petroleums and Westcoast Transmission at Taylor Flats.

This plant will clean the gas from the Peace River area before it enters the Westcoast pipeline. Production from the plant will include sulphur, propane, butane, natural gasoline and liquid hydrocarbons.

Mr. McMahon says the integration of the refinery with the processing plant will provide a major industry for the north. Several hundred people will be employed on a full time basis.

IMPERIAL PAYS MORE

As promised at the annual meeting shareholders of Imperial Oil are henceforth to get their dividend payments four times a year instead of half yearly.

In addition, the directors yesterday added a little more spice to the switch-over by authorizing an increased rate of payment. On Sept. 28 Imperial Oil shareholders will receive 30 cents. Last June they received 50 cents as a half-yearly payment.

BONDS OFFERED

A new bond with warrants to buy common shares attached, is being issued by Traders' Finance.

The offering is of $5,000,000 of five per cent debentures maturing 1972.

With each $1,000 bond will go warrants to purchase at any time in the next five years 10 shares of Traders' Finance common stock at $50 a share.

HUSKY GETS WINNER

A discovery well in the North Carnduff area of southeastern Saskatchewan has flowed into production at a healthy rate of 400 barrels a day.

The well is being drilled by Husky Oil and Consolidated Mic-Mac on a farmout agreement with Canadian Superior. The farmout covers 20,480 acres and Husky and Mic-Mac will earn 50 per cent interest in the lands on completion of a 25-well program.

Carnduff No. 1 produced in the Mission Canyon formation bottoming at 3,975 feet.

WIRE PROFITS GROW

Canadian Wire and Cable, subsidiary of Noranda Mines Ltd., stepped up its net profit for the first half of 1956 to $1,245,000 from $931,000 in the first half of 1955.

Increase is reported due to improved sales volume with copper rod sales up 75 per cent.

Operations at the Vancouver plant have been expanded to include the manufacture of plastic insulated wire.

COPPER PRICE CUT

Custom Smelters in the United States have cut their price for copper to 39 cents a pound, one cent lower than the 40 cents price which has been held since last month by the big producers.

The custom smelters who have only a small share of the copper market have been unable to sell at the higher prices and are hoping the present reduction will give them a share of the orders.

Mogul Finances Canam Copper

TORONTO (CP) — The stockholders of Canam Copper Corporation Friday approved the creation of an issue of first-mortgage sinking-fund debendutres to aggregate principal amount of $3,000,000 and an increase in authorized share capital of 1,000,000 $1-par shares.

Mogul Mining Corporation has agreed to underwrite the $3,000,000 principal amount of 5½-per-cent sinking-fund first-mortgage debentures to be dated Oct. 1, 1956 and to mature Sept. 30, 1963. Mogul also will buy 300,000 shares of capital stock, paying $96 for each package of $100 principal amount of debentures and 10 shares of capital stock.

The debentures and shares are to be taken up as required to enable Canam to pay the cost of placing its mine in production at a rate of 1,000 tons a day.

As a bonus Canam offered Mogul stock-purchase warrants in proportion to the principal amount of the debentures taken up, giving Mogul the right to purchase 800,000 additional Canam shares at any time up to Sept. 30, 1960 at $1 a share.

Brokers' Raise Margins Rate

TORONTO (CP)—Interest rates on margin accounts with Toronto stock brokers have been raised one-quarter of one per cent, the Toronto stock exchange announces.

The rate on customers' debit balances is now 6¼ per cent, compared with the previous rate of six per cent.

The exchange said the increase is in line with a recent boost in the borrowing rates set by the chartered banks.

Power Corporation Increases Earnings

MONTREAL (CP)—Power Corporation of Canada had a net profit of $2,022,134 for the year ended June 30, the company disclosed Friday. Net profit for 1955 was $1,784,612.

Earnings a share were set at $2.77 in 1956 compared with $2.31 last year.

London Prices Drift

LONDON (Reuters)—The stock market was quiet and unsettled. Prices tended to drift in the absence of interest.

Industrial shares generally drifted indecisively. Miscellaneous leaders were often a shade lower but there was little selling.

Oils also lacked a decided trend. Kaffirs were dull and copper shares were ideal but prices were helped by a sharp rally in New York overnight.

Frantic Tallyho Team Ties Up Traffic

A team of frightened tallyho horses caused damage to a parked car and tied up traffic on Humboldt street Friday afternoon. One horse was badly gashed.

The four horses, scared by the noise of roller racks which fell from a Heaney Cartage truck, attempted to turn around in the narrow street.

Driver of the truck, A. J. Bisson, 2403 Douglas, said the loose roller racks fell from the back of the truck and rolled towards the horses panicking them.

Rear of the tallyho damaged the side of a parked car owned by Bob Chase, 714 Claremont.

The disabled carriage was stranded sideways in the street and blocked traffic for almost an hour.

One of the horses suffered a bad leg gash and had to stand in the street for more than an hour while owners argued and police took information.

A man phoned the Colonist office shortly after the accident and said he was going to complain to the SPCA about the treatment the horse received. "No veterinary came for an hour," he said.

Another complained: "The animal could develop blood poisoning because the wound went untended for so long."

WOMEN DRIVERS

HALIFAX (CP)—Two male motorists had to speed to the rescue after an unidentified woman accidentally drove her car into a river. They promptly towed it out for her. Police said she took her feet off the clutch while the motor was running.

Drilling for oil has been started in west Pakistan following an encouraging geological survey.

Royals Gain Draw With United, 2-2; Share First Place

By JIM TANG

Victoria United kept up its display of improved, but futile, football at Royal Athletic park last night, playing to a 2-2 draw with New Westminster Royals, Dominion champions and first-half winners in the Pacific Coast Soccer League.

Split in points enabled Royals to tie Halecos for the second-half lead and United to move into third spot, one point ahead of North Shore and one point behind the co-leaders.

United has four points from five matches, could have had a maximum of 10 with a bit more luck and would have had at least three more but for its

N. Westminster	3	2	0	1	11	4	5
Halecos	3	2	0	1	8	4	5
VICTORIA	5	1	2	2	11	11	4
North Shore	3	1	1	1	10	13	3
St. Andrews	4	0	3	1	4	10	1

Last night's score: New Westminster Royals 2 at Victoria United 2.
Next game, today: North Shore vs St. Andrews, at Vancouver.

own failures when it counted.

The Victoria XI has lost twice by 2-1 scores to Halecos, each time deserving no worse than a draw. It should have won the 5-5 tie with North Shore and could easily have had the other point last night.

DEFENCE SLIPS

As has been the case more often than not in the second half, it was defensive play which let down the Victorians. Their tackling lacked bite and they were back in their old habit of not playing their checks tight enough.

It cost them dearly, Royals capitalizing for both their goals to nullify the two beautiful goals scored by a Victoria forward line which played exceptionally well, particularly in the first half.

United took the lead twice, leading 1-0 at half-time and 2-1 with six minutes left to play. While the Islanders didn't exactly give away the two goals scored against them, they were the result of lack of aggressive tackling and a wait-and-see policy when on the defensive.

WINGERS SHINE

But United was often a good club when it had the ball. Offensively, the Islanders were constructive for the most part, they used the short pass to advantage and wingers Ced Robb and Tim Walker kept their opposing backs busy when they were given the ball.

Most of that, however, was in the first half. United again ran out of gas for the middle 20 minutes of the second half and the one-goal lead was not enough as Royals were allowed to get settled down and apply steady pressure.

Walker give United the lead with a brilliant goal at 25 minutes. He took a pass from George Wright, dribbled past Dave Stothard, shuffled the ball from his left foot to his right and then hooked a sizzling shot which caromed in off the inside of the far upright.

GREAT CHANCE

Minutes before, Ken Hibbert skied over on a great chance and later in the half Walker shot wide and Ernie Eastlake on the best chance of all, shot directly at goalie Peter Demunyck.

United should have been at least two goals in front at the half, and needed to be. Royal pressure finally paid off at 33 minutes after many close misses when Gogie Stewart scored from the right side on a pass from Stu Crossan, who had taken over minutes before at centre-forward for Bob Shenton.

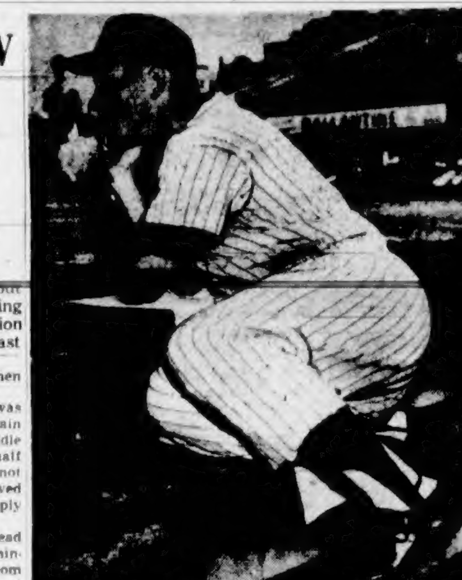

Six minutes later, with three fresh men in the middle of the forward line figuring, United went ahead with a beautiful goal.

PERFECT PASS

Bill McMillan started the play with a pass to Cec Harrison, who fed Robb with a perfect pass down the right wing. Robb sent over a curving cross and Dave Guthrie hit it first time to give Demunyck no chance.

Two minutes later, Crossan was allowed to dribble in unchecked as United defenders again backed in close. He drove a rising shot at the 18-yard line and goalie Archie McMillan, who had played well in holding for 78 minutes, was up a bit soon and the ball went in just under the crossbar as he just failed to tip it over.

Mickey Ponders

Time is running out for New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle in his bid to crack Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in one season. Waiting his turn at batting practice, Mickey seems to be pondering his dwindling chances of breaking the Babe's 1927 mark. Mantle blasted No. 43 Thursday but failed to connect last night and now needs 18 homers in 31 games to top the record.—(CPC)

Rocks Refuse To Finish Game; Pils May Be Awarded Series

Victoria Shamrocks bid for a second straight Canadian lacrosse championship may have ended at Vancouver's Kerrisdale arena Friday night when the Rocks forfeited the third game of the best-of-five Inter-City Lacrosse League semi-final in protest over the refereeing.

Vancouver was leading 11-3 at 7.47 of the third quarter when Shamrock coach Whitey Severson pulled his team off the floor following a stick-swinging duel between Pils' firey Bobby Marsh and scrappy Al Gill of Victoria. Vancouver leads the series, two games to one.

There is a strong possibility that Vancouver will be awarded the series by default and move into the best-of-seven final against Nanaimo Timbermen. Inter-City Lacrosse secretary Tom Gordon said late last night that a special meeting will be held tonight to decide the issue.

"NEVER IN FAVOR"

Gordon would say little on the incident although he told the Colonist: "One thing you should never do is pull the team off the floor. I am never in favor of that."

If Shamrocks are allowed to continue, the fourth game of the series will be played Monday night at Victoria.

The incident that led to Victoria's withdrawal from the floor occurred a few seconds after Marsh had scored his fifth goal. Both players went into the boards for a loose ball and the referees were whistling a two-minute boarding penalty to Gill when Marsh slashed at the Victoria player with his stick.

SIX-STITCH GASH

Gill slashed back and referee Roy Burton went in to separate them. Gill lowered his stick but Marsh swung over the referee and opened a six-stitch gash over Gill's left eye. Both players were sent off with five-minute penalties but Severson felt that Marsh should have received additional time for the part he played in the incident.

Severson then called his players and club officials together and it was decided to pull the team off the floor. Gordon, in attendance at the game, gave Severson five minutes in which to put his team back on the floor but Victoria failed to make an appearance and the game was awarded to Pilseners.

An angry Severson told the Colonist Friday night that "we pulled the club because the refereeing was very bad. We were losing the game but that had nothing to do with the decision. All players and officials agreed on it.

"The refereeing over here (Vancouver) is so biased that we couldn't risk the chance of any more injuries," Severson continued. "So we pulled the club off the floor and left it up to the Inter-City Lacrosse League to act on it."

Severson again stressed that the decision was not made because the Shamrocks were losing at the time. And he also stressed that the one particular incident was not the sole reason that he pulled the club off the floor.

"I am never in favor of pulling a club off the floor. That's poor. But we had to get some action and maybe this is the way to get it. The refereeing is killing the game."

SHARP PERFORMANCE

As for the game itself, the Pilseners turned in a sharp performance and pulled away late in the second quarter after the Shamrocks had opened up an early lead. Bill Bamford and Pee Wee Bradshaw scored Victoria goals in the first six minutes of play but Marsh scored twice to make it 2-2 at the end of the first quarter.

Marsh, with his third straight goal, and Skip McKay made it 4-2 early in the second quarter but Severson and Larry Booth tallied for the Rocks while Marsh was serving a penalty. Then Pils scored four straight goals, two coming while Severson was serving a penalty, for an 8-4 half-time lead.

Archie Browning cut the deficit to 8-5 early in the third quarter while Booth was serving a penalty but McKay and Parry whipped in quick goals again against the short-handed Rocks and Marsh scored his fifth goal at 7.35 before trouble started.

Spahn's Five-Hitter Beats Phils As Dodgers Edge Redlegs, 6-4

Milwaukee Braves, again getting brilliant pitching from crafty Warren Spahn and clutch hitting from Joe Adcock and Ed Mathews, held their two-game National League lead Friday night by thumping Philadelphia, 6-1. But second-place Brooklyn kept right on the pace by knocking Cincinnati five games behind with a 6-4 triumph.

The 35-year-old Spahn, who gave up only one run in his last outing, scattered five hits in chalking up his 15th victory of the season and the 198th of his major league career. Adcock and Mathews supplied the power, each hitting a two-run homer.

Washington	50	69	.420	27
Kansas City	40	80	.333	37½

Veteran Sal Maglie, with relief help from Don Bessent, gained his seventh victory as the Dodgers outlasted the Redlegs and Larry Jansen in a battle of home runs. Duke Snider batted in four runs with his 34th homer and a single and Carl Furillo chased the other two across with his 17th home run. Both home runs came off Jansen who lost his first in three decisions since returning from the minors.

Maglie was tagged for home runs by Gus Bell, his 25th, and Wally Post, his 27th, as the Redlegs made it 21 straight games in which they have hit one or more homers. During that time the Redlegs have connected for 41 homers—a record for that many games and also a record total for any number of consecutive games.

Fourth-place St. Louis, behind the sixth-hit pitching of 30-year-old Murray Dickson, handed Pittsburgh a seventh straight defeat and dumped the Pirates to within a game of last-place New York Giants, who made it four in a row with a 5-4, 11-inning victory over Chicago Cubs.

KUCKS BEATS CHISOX

Johnny Kucks won his 17th with a four-hitter as New York Yankees retained their eight-game lead with a 2-0 victory over Chicago White Sox in American League action. Gil McDougald's 10th home run and a run-scoring double by Mickey Mantle, hitless in three other trips, gave Kucks his victory.

Second-place Cleveland downed Boston, 5-3, on homers by George Strickland and Vic Wertz. Don Mossi's relief brought Mike Garcia his 10th victory and first of the season over a first-division club.

Ohio Marksman Wins In Grand American

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — A hometown marksman, C. W. Brown of nearby Dayton, a western-style straw hat on the back of his head and his gold teeth shining in the sun, Friday won trapshooting's biggest prize, the Grand American handicap.

Brown, a 46-year-old precision grinder at an auto plant, stormed down the finish in almost the last squad of a record field of 2,145 to post a score of 99 of 100 from 20 yards.

That threw him into a deadlock with Durwood L. Baumgartner of Crestline, Ohio, and Paul Baker of Brookville, Ohio.

In the shootoff, Brown broke 23 of 25 to take the championship. Baker wound up second with 22, and Baumgartner third with 18. The three shared $12,000 in prize money.

Leon Hartman of Kitchener, Ont., was top Canadian shot in the Grand American handicap with 95, shot from 21 yards. He was well out of the money. However, there were 35 Canadians entered.

George Genereux of Saskatoon, who won the Champion of Champions competition Wednesday, scored 92 Friday. He shot from 26 yards, one of the heavier handicaps.

Elk Lake Seeks Provincial Crown

Elk Lake junior girls softball team will be seeking the British Columbia championship this weekend when it competes in a double loss elimination tournament with two Mainland clubs at Central park's lower diamond.

Elk Lake will meet Vancouver Sunbeam in the opening game of the tourney today at 1.30. Winner of the first game will meet at 6.15.

The tourney will wind up Sunday with games at 3 p.m. and 6.15 p.m., if necessary.

Two Canadian Records Tumble; Tobacco Takes 400-Metre Event

HAMILTON (CP)—Two Canadian records, two upsets and a spectacular official "goof" featured the evening events as the Canadian Olympic track and field trials opened Friday.

Toronto's blonde shot-putter Jackie MacDonald heaved the eight-pound shot 46 feet ¾ inches to set a Canadian women's record and surpass the Olympic standard by nearly three feet.

High - jumper Ken Money of Winnipeg set the other record as he cleared the bar at six feet 5¾ inches. He was 1¼ inches over the Canadian record but only a fraction above the Olympic standard.

Their performances were the only bright spots in a generally mediocre showing, which should make the task of selectors, who can pick but 12 men and six women, an easy one.

Both upsets were recorded in the 100-metre finals as favorites Jack Parrington of Toronto and Montreal's Diane Matheson could manage only thirds in the men's and women's events.

The victory in the men's 100-metre went to Toronto high school student Stan Levenson, but his time was a disappointing 10.8, two-tenths of a second over the standard.

Eleanor Haslam of Saskatoon took the women's 100-metre in 12.2, once again over the standard. Miss Matheson's defeat was a complete surprise after she had equalled the Canadian women's 12-second record in a previous heat. M. Rever of Regina finished second.

Calgary's Doug Kyle was the victim of the "goof." Kyle trotted home the winner in the 10,000-metre event and his time was excitedly announced as 29:18.1, more than two seconds under the Canadian record.

Then a red-faced official confessed he had miscounted laps, and said Kyle and the field were a full lap under the distance. The event was allowed to stand but the time was washed out.

D. Stafford of Langley, B.C., won the men's running broad jump event with a distance of 22 feet 10½ inches.

Tobacco, hotly pursued to the wire by Murray Cockburn of Toronto, equalled the Olympic standard. He was one of three to equal or beat the mark in the 11 events run off.

Victoria's Sue Burnett was second in the first heat of the women's 100-metre race and was second in her heat in the 100-metre semi-final.

Oilers Square Softball Series

Re-Refined Oil dumped defending champion Brodie's Bakery, 9-3, at Heywood Avenue park last night to square the Senior "B" Men's Softball League best-of-five playoff series at one game apiece.

Righthander Rod Turner held the Bakers to six hits and lasted until the ninth inning, when he had a recurrence of the arm trouble that has hampered him all season. Charlie Adams came in with two out and a three-and-two count on the batter, threw one strike, and the game was over.

Third game of the series will be played Sunday at 6.30 and the fourth on Monday night. Fifth game, if necessary, is scheduled for Tuesday.

Sunday afternoon at Heywood avenue, play begins in the annual knockout tournament for The Daily Colonist Knockout Cup. All five teams in the senior "B" league are entered, along with clubs from Jordan River, Brentwood and Sooke.

Mary's Coffee Bar meets Brentwood in the opening game of the tournament Sunday at 2.

Aussies Only 49 Runs Back After Losing Three for 20

LONDON (AP) — Australia Friday fought back from a disastrous start on the second day of the final cricket Test and finished with a sporting chance of taking the first innings lead from England.

The last three English wickets fell before lunch for the addition of 24 runs, leaving the Aussies with a total of 247 to equal. But within three-quarters of an hour, three Australian batsmen were back in the pavilion with only 20 scored. Shortly after lunch, half the side was out for 47.

Then came the revival. Neil Harvey (39), Richie Benaud (32), Ray Lindwall (22 not out) and the veteran Keith Miller with an undefeated 57 struck successive blows for the underdog Aussies and left them only 49 runs short of the England total at the close of play.

Captain Ian Johnson, promoting himself to the No. 5 spot in the batting order, saved his recognized batsmen until later. Johnson only made 12 but he stayed over the lunch period with Harvey just long enough to check the spin attack of Tony Lock and Jim Laker, which had threatened to turn the Australian innings into a rout.

Frank Tyson and Brian Statham, twin terrors of the last Australian tour, were together again for the first time in the current series but their speed assault did not get far Friday on an unresponsive pitch.

Swim Team Named

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Swimming Association yesterday named the 10 swimmers and divers who will represent this country at the 1956 Olympics. There wasn't a surprise on the list, but the accent was on youth and femininity.

Seven of the 10 named were women.

Picked were Ginny Grant of Toronto, Sara Barber of Brantford, Ont., Montreal's Beth Whittall and Gladys Priestley; Vancouver's Helen Stewart and Bill Slater; Hamilton's Irene MacDonald and George Park; Lenora Fisher of Ocean Falls, B.C., and Bill Patrick of Calgary.

FAST TIME

The 15-year-old Miss Grant set Canada's swimming world agog the first day of the just-completed Canadian championships with her record 58.6 in the women's 100-yard freestyle. Though well below the world record 58.1 it was considered amazing because it was made in a 50-yard pool. The best swim times are set in 25 yard pools, which give extra speed-making kicks on turns.

Miss Grant's time made her the best bet for a gold medal, but 15-year-old Sara Barber was the meet's standout.

In the junior women's class she set records in four of five events she won, and turned in several times seconds better than the best of the senior women.

Also given a good chance for Olympic points is diver Irene MacDonald.

The 17-year-old Miss Stewart and young Miss Priestley are expected to provide Canada with a strong women's relay team.

The 16-year-old Slater, who dominated the junior events and 23-year-old Park round out the swimming team, with Patrick, 24, Canada's lone male diver.

If any of the above are forced out of competition, team coach Tommy Walker of Toronto can call on two strong alternates. They are 13-year-old Marg Iwasaki, a Japanese-Canadian from Vancouver and flashy Gerry McNamee, also of Vancouver.

City Archers Capture Title

Victoria's archery-shooting Jones family won two titles and placed second in another event in an invitational competition at Haney, B.C., recently.

Twelve-year-old Bill Jones led the juniors with 577 of a possible 810; Lil Jones topped the women's open class with a 581 total, and Frank Jones placed second in the men's open shoot.

Plays Today

BERNIE ANDERSON

Hard-hitting outfielder of Farmer Construction, Bernie Anderson will be in usual centre-field position today when Ed Ash's Victoria club meets Bellingham Bells in a Northwestern International Baseball League twin bill at Royal Athletic park. Southpaw ace Bill Garner is expected to start the afternoon game at 2:30 while veteran righthander Bill Prior is Ash's mound choice for the nightcap, which starts at 7:30.

Speaking Briefly

Brown Wins Lightweight Crown

Joe Brown, a 30-year-old New Orleans carpenter, used baffling hit-and-run tactics Friday night as he floored Wallace (Bud) Smith twice and outpunched the champion to win the world's lightweight boxing championship on a 15-round split decision at New Orleans.

Brown, the eighth-ranked contender who outpointed Smith in a non-title fight at Houston last May, unleashed a two-handed barrage in the 14th round that sent Smith down for counts of seven and nine. Only the bell saved Smith from a knockout on his second trip to the canvas.

Ringside reports after the fighters left the ring said Brown broke his right hand in the second round, probably when he staggered Smith with a straight right flush on the chin. Promoter J. T. Owen of the sponsoring Louisiana Boxing Club confirmed the report.

Brown fought almost exclusively through the middle rounds with a flickering left hand jab and evaded Smith's flat-footed slow-motion attack with baffling bobs and weaves. The polished Brown cleverly avoided dangerous corner traps with his quick moves.

At times, the first world title fight in New Orleans in 39 years became so dull that the crowd of more than 8,000 booed it lustily. However, the late rounds were exciting as Brown started his winning rally in the 13th and went to work in the 14th with hard left-right combinations to the chin that left Smith groggy and bleeding from the mouth.

Referee Roland Brown gave the New Orleans fighter the decision, 68-66 and [illegible] Dabney had Brown ahead, 9-3-3. But judge Frederick Adams favored Smith, 7-6-2. The United Press had Brown ahead, 8-7.

Doctors Lose Case

Fee-Splitting Law Upheld

TORONTO (CP)—Fee-splitting is illegal and a hospital is justified in punishing staff doctors who engage in it, a justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario has ruled.

Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel described the practice, by which a consulting specialist pays part of his fees to the patient's referring physician, as a breaking of trust with the patient.

In a judgment Thursday, he dismissed the attempt of three London, Ont., doctors to have Victoria Hospital's anti-fee-splitting by-law declared invalid.

Drs. Harold Henderson, J. H. Spence and Donald B. Ferguson said in their appeal last March they objected principally to the by-law which enabled the London hospital to have a staff doctor's books audited and gave the board of trustees power to deny a doctor privileges of the hospital.

MUST DISCLOSE LINK

Mr. Justice LeBel said a patient is entitled to assume the doctor who recommends an operation has no pecuniary interest in the operation.

"If the medical adviser has a pecuniary interest — and a fee-splitting arrangement is such an interest—he must disclose it or fail in the discharge of his duty to his patient, and by failing in that way he acts illegally in my opinion."

He said the practice is not forbidden by the Criminal Code of Canada, but is illegal nonetheless.

He noted the Canadian Medical Association's code of ethics says fee-splitting is not consistent with "the honor of the profession."

The code, he said, does make provision for complex cases in which services of several doctors are required, and in such cases allows a "composite fee" provided the patient is aware of the arrangement.

Defendants in the case were Dr. David W. B. Johnston, president of Victoria Hospital's medical staff, and the hospital's board of trustees.

NUMEROUS INSECTS—

Volunteers Help Build Church

Pounding nails into sub-flooring of a new Garden City United church, rising rapidly on Carey road adjacent to 40-year-old present structure, are W. P. Webster, 78, 525 Kelvin road, and Thomas Goodwin, 80, 3713 Harriet road. Old-timers joined eight other volunteers and three carpenters to lay 2,700 square feet of sub-flooring for $29,000 church, expected to be completed by Thanksgiving.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Famed U.K. Evangelist Due Here Next Month

Churches Combine To Stage Rallies

Preparations for a big eight-day inter-church mission by Welsh evangelist Tom Rees, who is expected to draw overflow crowds to the Memorial Arena for two Sunday evening rallies in September, are rapidly being completed.

"Close to 70 protestant Christian churches of Victoria and surrounding communities are uniting in a common effort to bring souls to Christ, which is their basic reason for existence," said publicity chairman Rev. R. J. Welsh yesterday.

Theme of the mission is "Know Christ—and Make Him Known."

Mr. Rees, a layman who has been conducting evangelistic missions for the past 20 years in the United States, Canada and England, will arrive here from England, Sept. 21.

The largest massing of church choirs in the history of Victoria will mark the opening rally of the mission in Memorial Arena at 7.30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 23.

The choirs, said Mr. Welsh, will assist in congregational singing and not present "fancy church signing."

PRAYER MEETINGS

Monday, Sept. 24 to Saturday, Sept. 29, prayer meetings will be held from 12.10 to 12.40 noon in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and at 8 p.m. in Christ Church cathedral.

A special meeting for women only will be held at 2.30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, in Metropolitan United church.

Another meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 30, in First United church, will be for teen-agers only.

The mission will close at 8 p.m. Sept. 30 with another big rally in the Memorial Arena.

All participating churches have been asked to cancel their Sunday evening services during the mission.

Chairman of the organizing committee is Archbishop Harold E. Sexton and vice-chairman is Rev. Dr. F. E. H. James of Metropolitan United church.

Other members of the committee are Joseph Hopkinson, general secretary; Rev. William Hills, recording secretary; M. T. Biette, assistant secretary; and J. B. McMahon, treasurer.

Sub-committee chairman are Paul Naftel, printing; Rev. Douglas Pilkey, youth organization; M. F. Hunter, delegations; Frank Tupman, music; Rev. C. G. McKenzie, prayer; Rev. A. I. Higginson, stewards and ushers; Hon. R. W. Mayhew, finance; and Mrs. Herbert Warren, women's and visitation.

Manse Gets Tenant

Rev. Douglas Carr, minister of Centennial United church, and his family have moved into a new seven-room manse at 3875 Carey road.

Purchase of the manse is part of a three-year expansion program by the church, which includes assistance to church extension on Vancouver Island and aid to Union College, Vancouver.

The old manse, behind the church, will be converted to a suite for the church caretaker and his wife downstairs, and extra Sunday school accommodation upstairs.

Present Sunday school enrollment of about 300 is expected to increase this fall.

The new manse, about two miles from the church, is a stucco-frame house with a drive-in garage and oil heating.

Message from the Minister

Are You Living in 'Flatland'?

This is another in a series of articles by Greater Victoria clergymen appearing weekly on The Daily Colonist church page.

By REV. C. LEIGHTON STREIGHT
Assistant Minister
First United Church

About 75 years ago a distinguished English headmaster, Edwin A. Abbott, wrote a strange little book entitled "Flatland." It pictured a peculiar world of only two dimensions: length and breadth; a world of flat surfaces from which its citizens had neither the desire nor the necessity to ever look up. But as the story unfolded, the author told how these imaginary creatures in the realm of "Flatland" could aspire through another dimension to become "solid" humanity.

"Ridiculous," you say. "Pure fancy!"

Perhaps, but fancy with an element of truth; for how many men and women today are, actually living, consciously or unconsciously, in a two-dimensional world? Many are ready to confess that they feel the tension of being harried and hurried. Their foot is so heavy on the accelerator of life that they simply have no time to behold life's third dimension; the spiritual.

If our lives are barren, it is due in most cases to their being aimed in a horizontal rather than in a vertical direction. Too many of us, like the imaginary creatures in Abbott's book, are living in "Flatland"; and as Dr. Paul Scherer says, we move like something "hauntingly tragic, plunging along toward self-defeat."

The basic cure for the two-dimensional folk of this world is to be found in the fifth verse of the 34th Psalm: "They looked unto Him, and were lightened." God made man on two feet instead of on four so that he might look up. When we do look up, we focus our attention and our affection on God instead of on ourselves. This recognition of God adds to life its third dimension, and provides an escape from the unhappy climate of "Flatland." Worship is man's response to the call of God to look out beyond the narrow horizons of his own frantic little world; and the result can only be a faith which stretches our constricted and jaded souls toward spiritual heights, and gives us a vision of eternity and purpose.

Picnic Ends Salt Spring Swim Classes

After Wanda Lee, 8, had presented Mrs. Margie Naysmith with flowers and a note, "In appreciation, and the hope you will be back next year," young swimmers of Salt Spring island at Vesuvius bay relaxed for refreshments on the beach. More than 100 had received their swim certificates from Mrs. Naysmith, instructor of The Daily Colonist's free learn-to-swim classes this summer. Mrs. W. D. Reid, Mrs. Inez Parham, Mrs. Rhona Ashley and Mrs. Ruth Heinekey helped with the supper as they had with the swim classes.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Closure Unlikely

Improving situation in coastal forest lands was reported yesterday as officials said there would be no closure in the Vancouver forest district before [illegible] then.

"The situation is pretty good and getting better," said a spokesman. "We can't see a closure being applied in the forseeable future."

Latest forest fire total for the district since the fire season opened May 1 shows there have been 2,422 outbreaks costing the taxpayers a total of $489,110.

Strike Halts Buttle Work; 300 Protest Poor Catering

Strike of some 300 members of five unions working on the B.C. Power Commission's Upper Campbell-Buttle lake hydro development halted work at the dam site yesterday.

The men are striking against what they describe as "poor catering" and have promised to return to work if catering facilities are improved by Monday.

The men are striking against the contractors, Dawson Wade and Co., and not the power commission.

Involved are carpenters, rock drillers, engineers, laborers and teamsters.

Useless $13,000 Foghorn Leaves Fishermen in Lurch

KYUQUOT — Fishermen are complaining that the automatic foghorn on Lookout island is not working.

The foghorn was installed in 1953 at a cost of $13,000 after fishermen requested it. Since then, it has only worked infrequently.

Lately, salmon trollers have been losing valuable time when they have been forced to anchor and wait for fog to lift.

Fishermen are particularly annoyed that a petition which they signed and sent to the minister of transport, asking that the foghorn be moved to nearby Spring island where the Loran station personnel could tend it, has not even been acknowledged.

Relatives Await End To 17-Year Heartbreak

Special to The Daily Colonist

PORT ALBERNI—Ernest Graf, released April 15 after 11 years in Soviet prison camps, is waiting in Germany, expecting momentarily to be given the word that he can come to Canada to be reunited with the family from whom he has been separated for half his lifetime.

Members of the family who have moved to Port Alberni will be ready to welcome the son and brother, who, in 17 years, has changed from a husky happy blonde youth to a prison-weary man.

His middle-aged parents, a brother and sister are waiting here for news that he is on his way.

ILL, THIN

Graf, now 32, was ill and emaciated when released last spring in the care of an uncle at Weisweiler, Germany. He has since been under care in a sanitorium, been discharged and given a medical examination. A routine waiting period is now almost expired and he is expecting to be issued with a visa within a day or two.

Sixteen hours after he is able to obtain air passage he will be in Vancouver.

In the spring of 1939 Ernest was a 16-year-old boy on the prairie farm where the family had settled after coming to Canada in 1921. To give the boy a chance to apprentice to a trade he was sent to his grandparents in Germany.

Classed as a landed immigrant, he was unable to return to Canada when war broke out and he was drafted into the German army in 1942. He served in the medical corps and never used a weapon. Never the less, in 1945 he was taken prisoner by the Russians.

SHUNTED AROUND

After a forced march to Camp Wenniza in the Ukraine he was shunted from camp to camp enduring hardships and torture, according to the story he told German reporters after his release.

In all the years of his imprisonment he never received a letter from his Canadian relatives although parcels were delivered. Since his discharge a constant stream of letters has passed back and forth across the Atlantic.

New Soccer Team Formation Set

PARKSVILLE — It is hoped to organize a junior soccer team in the Parksville area this season and a meeting for this purpose will be held today at 2.30 p.m. in the Legion hall.

Board Authorizes Student Insurance

DUNCAN — Accident insurance for pupils and parents will be made available to those wishing it when school opens here for the fall term, the school board decided Thursday.

The school board said that "if the individual teachers are agreeable to act in the matter of collections, the board will allow an insurance company to solicit insurance for pupils and parents." All collections must be made within the period from Sept. 15 to 30.

The board has made the move because of the number of accidents suffered by children and claims put forward by parents for indemnity for doctor and hospital care for which the board was not liable.

The Cowichan Insurance Agents' Association was appointed to act for the school board.

Cowichan Car Accident Victims 'Satisfactory'

DUNCAN — The condition of two teen-agers who were seriously injured in an auto accident near Lake Cowichan Wednesday was reported "satisfactory" Friday.

Stephen Gibson, 16, of Duncan, suffered a skull fracture and shock, while a passenger, James Brown, 16, also of Duncan, suffered head injuries and shock.

Biggest Year, Biggest Tourist

This has been the biggest tourist year in Victoria's history—and this is probably the biggest tourist, H. O. Bell, a cattle man from Santa Maria, Calif. Towering over Barney Olson of Strathcona Hotel, a six-footer himself, Mr. Bell stands seven feet and carries more than 350 pounds on his shoe leather. —(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Park Ceremony Set

Monument To Be Erected To Mark Marilyn's Swim

Naming of Cove Also Possibility

Victoria will say congratulations and farewell to Marilyn Bell this afternoon in a brief ceremony which may attract thousands to Beacon Hill park.

Following a parade through town numerous presentations will be made and pledged to the 18-year-old Juan de Fuca strait conqueror and there may be even mention of a plan to name her landing point of Friday "Marilyn Bell bay."

City council held a special meeting yesterday to plan the reception on the park playing field, at the foot of Douglas, and also decided to erect a monument where she landed and possibly name the small cove after the Toronto schoolgirl.

Marilyn's father, Sid Bell, has already returned to Toronto. The swimmer, coach Gus Ryder and other members of the party are expected to leave tonight.

Cavalcade of cars will leave the Old Charming Inn at 2.30 p.m. travelling via Oak Bay avenue, Fort, Douglas, Fisgard, Government, Belleville and Douglas to the park.

Civic reception, which will be led by acting Mayor W. F. Pinfold, will include speeches by Marilyn and coach Gus Ryder, presentation of bouquets and gift of pictures to Marilyn and the coach by the swim sponsors.

Ryder To Get Gift

A mounted photograph of the monument will be sent to Marilyn after it is completed and decorated. To coach Ryder will be sent a silver medallion bearing the city's coat of arms and the inscription:

"Presented to Gus Ryder in commemoration of the Cliff Lumsdon swim Aug. 17, 1956, and the Marilyn Bell swim Aug. 23, 1956, across Juan de Fuca strait, with the gratitude and affection of the citizens of Victoria."

City had planned to hold a dinner for Marilyn but cancelled it at the request of the coach.

"We want to thank everyone in Victoria for the completely overwhelming reception given us yesterday. We will never in our lives forget that tribute for just doing what we came to do."

Marilyn, who has also crossed Lake Ontario and the English channel and completed the Atlantic City swim, said yesterday that "that strait is not as hard as lake Ontario."

Cold and choppy seas were her biggest problems during the record breaking swim, she said. Navigator Capt. Ellice Cavin said he was worried only during the last mile and added that "if we had had the weather Cliff had, we would have made better time."

Only a few hours after completing the swim Marilyn went swimming in Prospect lake. That was after Dr. R. J. Wride pronounced her "just fine except for stiffness."

Bert Thomas, whose record Marilyn broke, said he was "tickled to death" about the swim.

"There's no argument," he said. "She's a swimmer."

Marilynne Dawson, Miss Victoria and the city's May queen this year, leaves tonight for the Pacific National Exhibition and final judging Wednesday in the "Miss PNE" contest.

With 30 other beauty contest winners from all parts of the province, Miss Dawson will take part in a program which leaves little free time before the concluding competition.

On Sunday the girls will be given a [illegible] at the Hotel Georgia, have dinner there with [illegible] have their pictures taken and rehearse for stage appearances.

Program Monday begins at 10.30 a.m. with a tour of the PNE [illegible] building. Later contestants tour the [illegible] manufacturers, [illegible] attend a swim party, take in a street [illegible] in North Vancouver, appear on the PNE stage and attend a football game.

STANLEY PARK LUNCH

On Tuesday they stop in the morning, have lunch at Stanley park pavilion, tour the [illegible] building and attend the races in the afternoon and in the evening go on stage again and visit the gayway.

Tours continue at the home arts and livestock buildings Wednesday morning. In the afternoon there is a fashion show and [illegible] waters ex[illegible]. In the evening the winner will be chosen at 9.30 p.m. after which winner and [illegible] attend a final party.

Saanich Liberals

'Premier a Liar' Says P. A. Gibbs As Ramsay Picked

Hugh Ramsay, 34-year-old owner of a city machine shop, will represent Saanich Liberals against John Tisdalle of Social Credit and CCF candidate Frank Snowsell in the Sept. 19 provincial election.

Mr. Ramsay, whose only previous try for office, for city council last year, was unsuccessful, was named by 73 delegates at a nominating convention last night.

Only other nominee was Mrs. Marie Ash, Saanich Liberal association president and wife of Reeve Arthur Ash. In defeat she said Saanich Liberals "must work more and harder than you have done" to elect Mr. Ramsay.

Oak Bay Liberal candidate P. A. Gibbs, main speaker, called Premier W. A. C. Bennett a "liar" and a man who "doesn't know how to be fair."

Referring to the premier's charge of CCF-Liberal collusion to defeat Social Credit candidates, Mr. Gibbs said: "All he knows is fouling."

"I believe that 90 per cent of the people in B.C. like fair play," he said.

"HE IS A LIAR"

When the premier says the Liberals will take a sales tax cut out of hospital finances, said Mr. Gibbs, "he is a liar."

"He knows that couldn't be our intention," he said. "We will not interfere with hospital finances."

A native of Victoria and Oak Bay resident who soon will move to Saanich, Mr. Ramsay gave an appraisal of his opponents.

He called Mr. Tisdalle "a most ineffective and colorless individual." He said Mr. Snowsell has "quite a following, but the Winnipeg manifesto of the CCF has just put a new cover on the same old book."

Mr. Ramsay promised to work for a proper ferry terminal at Sidney, improvement of West Saanich road and better roads through the Cordova Bay and Gordon Head areas.

New Method

Unloading Hustle Set

A 2,500-ton load of gypsum rock will be discharged in a matter of hours off Brentwood bay Monday as B.C. Cement Co. tries a new method of bringing in the material for its manufacturing process at Bamberton.

The load will come direct from a port in Mexico where it is mined and will be in the hold of the 7,[illegible]-ton freighter Harry Lundeberg, owned by Gypsum Carriers Inc. and registered in Panama.

SLOWS HARDENING

Officials of King Brothers shipping agency explained vessel mixed with some rock at Bamberton to slow down hardening of cement. Previously it had been moved to Seattle by train and brought here on scows.

Direct movement by ship is being tried because the Harry Lundeberg is equipped with a conveyor belt which is said to [illegible] gypsum rock at a rate of [illegible] tons an hour.

EX-CANADIAN SHIP

The vessel, a former "Lake" ship of Western Canada steamship, will pass Victoria about [illegible] Monday and will unload at [illegible] off Brentwood bay. It will leave later [illegible] to discharge another [illegible] of gypsum rock at New Westminster.

'It Was as If He'd Aimed At the Tree'

Saanich police, who found almost by accident the car in which a Finnish immigrant died, were mystified last night at how it rocketed from a steep slope on Mount Douglas into a tree.

Aaro Mannenin, 29, was instantly killed when his car swerved off the Mt. Douglas road on the way down and hit a giant fir tree, about 8.30 p.m. Thursday.

"It was just as if he'd aimed at the tree," Sgt. Jack Hamilton, in charge of the investigation, said last night after a day of combing the scene for evidence as to the cause of the fatality, Greater Victoria's 11th this year.

"We couldn't find where he had been in any trouble coming down the hill. There were no signs that he had applied his brakes — no marks of any kind until he left the road.

"And he didn't go off the road until about 200 feet after the sharp bend. He must have been travelling at a terrific speed," Sgt. Hamilton said.

NO RELATIVES

Mannenin had no relatives in Canada but was engaged to a Toronto girl. Police were attempting to locate his parents in Finland.

The man came to Canada four years ago. He lived at 511 Dallas with another Finnish immigrant, Kalle Kajaider, whom he had met on the ship coming over.

Kajaider said he would attempt to locate Mannenin's fiancee.

Constables Bob Coleman and Norm Baker found the wreck almost by accident.

They spotted a car off the road while on a routine patrol about 10.30 p.m. and at first thought it was just an old car body. But they then noticed 1956 licence plates on the 1940 Plymouth and investigated.

They came upon a cruelly smashed and twisted mess of metal, the motor shoved from its mount underneath the floor boards into the front seat.

The body was brought out in the car. It was an hour before it could be freed.

"If the car hadn't hit the tree we might never have seen it," Sgt. Hamilton said. "It would have dropped straight down the big canyon and probably would have been covered in underbrush."

Mannenin worked on a cement machine at the Evans Coleman & Johnson plant here.

An inquest will be held Wednesday, 10 a.m., at Thomson Funeral Home.

Strait, Swim of 'Well Executed'

"Manoeuvre well executed."

So said Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen, RCN flag officer, Pacific coast, in a telegram to Marilyn Bell — one of hundreds of messages of congratulations the strait conqueror received yesterday.

Writing from HMCS Naden hospital where his condition after a heart attack is "satisfactory," Admiral Pullen said:

"The officers and men of the Pacific command join me in congratulating you on a magnificent performance of endurance and courage. Manoeuvre well executed."

Included among other messages were those of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, Mayor Percy Scurrah (in Hamilton, Ont.), Mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto and Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario.

Mayor Phillips sent word he will welcome Marilyn on the steps of City Hall when she returns early next week.

Premier Frost said: "You are indeed a famous young lady, having crowned yourself with success on many occasions. Once again you have achieved a victory which highly delights your fellow-Canadians."

City Signal Dangerous, Group Told

The traffic light at Oak Bay junction is the cause of "near fatalities day after day" and should be changed, police commissioner Gordon Carter said yesterday.

Confusion on the part of drivers and pedestrians as to when they can move and when they can't is causing a serious hazard, he said at the commission meeting. The meeting asked city council to investigate possibility of changing the light.

City Drivers Pay Penalties

Clement Such, 150 Beach Drive paid a total of $40 for speeding more than 30 miles an hour and violating the restriction on his driver's licence. Dennis Gordon De Macedo, 1116 Hilda, was fined $5 for not having a chauffeur's licence.

Stripped Intruder Battles with Woman

Police were hunting yesterday for a young man who broke into a woman's second-storey apartment and attempted to assault her. She escaped through a window.

Mrs. Joy Kershaw, 1026 Meares, reported that she was awakened at 1.50 a.m. Thursday to find a man, bare to the waist, standing beside her bed.

She screamed and he hit her.

STRUGGLED FREE

Mrs. Kershaw said she struggled free from him and jumped through the second-floor window of her bedroom to the roof, then to the ground, and ran across the street to seek help.

Police withheld details until yesterday. No arrest had been made.

The attacker was described as being 25 to 27 years of age, about 5 feet 8 inches with dark hair and wearing dark-rimmed glasses.

Entry was gained through an open kitchen window overlooking the adjoining roof of a one-storey house.

Drivers Scared

Yellow Line 'Creates' Law

The city police commission thinks drivers are afraid to break a law which doesn't exist.

And so they want the city to get out its paint brush squad and turn the yellow tourist direction lines on city streets to dotted lines.

Oak Bay has done the job this way although city engineer James Garnett told the commission in a letter that that was done only to save paint.

The commission had written city council that the solid lines were confusing to drivers, making them feel they couldn't pass other cars over the lines.

Mr. Garnett answered that he "can see no reason for confusion" because no law exists which prohibits passing over a solid line—just over two solid lines or a solid one on the driver's side of a doted line.

"We know that is the case," said chairman William Hamilton, "but we still are of the opinion that the general public feels it is against the law."

"It does create confusion."

Commission decided to recommend to council that the solid lines be changed to dotted ones.

Clarinetist Tops Show

Fifteen-year-old clarinetist Kenny Ryall, 3322 Ralston Crescent, took top honors last night at an amateur show at Beaver lake.

Judged second was accordian player Betty Warren, 12, 1698 Lansdowne, and third Marie Tippett, 11, [illegible] Heywood, who presented a saxaphone solo and Russian dance.

Red Springs Fetch $15

Highest in History

Salmon Command Fantastic Prices

Highest prices in history are being paid for troll-caught salmon on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

An official of B.C. Packers Ltd. yesterday confirmed a Colonist report from Kyuquot which said that fish-buying companies in that area were paying fishermen 45 cents a pound for large red spring salmon and 30 cents a pound for the smaller coho salmon.

Fishermen bringing troll-caught salmon directly to Victoria and Vancouver, he said, were receiving "several cents a pound more." Price for large springs yesterday was $1 cents.

George Nicholson, a veteran of the West Coast, called the prices phenomenal.

"Forty-five cents?" he said. "I've never heard of such a price!"

He noted that these prices would bring fishermen around $5 each for cohoes and $15 for red springs.

A big retail fish dealer in Victoria said that retail prices were also at a new high level. He said he had recently been obliged to raise the price of red spring salmon from 73 to 75 cents a pound.

He had no coho, but said he had seen it for sale in one shop at 85 cents a pound.

Another dealer, however, said he was selling coho at 73 cents.

"I get it wholesale for 49 cents, with head, tail and fins on," he said, "so you can see what I make when it's trimmed and sliced."

Troll-caught fish are sold on the fresh fish market. Large springs are used for mild cure.

Reasons for the high prices are scarcity of fish and the fact that salmon caught in the open Pacific always fetch higher prices than salmon caught in inside waters, being regarded as the highest quality.

Mr. Nicholson said the 35 cents a pound paid for white spring salmon could be regarded as a special feature of the record prices.

"Fishermen themselves have always known that white springs are the best to eat," he said, "but the public has always been prejudiced against its color and there was little demand for it.

"Now the public has been educated to know that it is every bit as good as red spring and it is in greater demand. The fishermen formerly received only 10 cents a pound for whites and more often than not the fish buyers would not take them."

Unyielding Driver Picks Wrong Car

He was fined $25 and $5 costs in Colwood RCMP court for failing to yield half the highway to a car Aug. 18.

Court was told it was an RCMP car.

Sugar Intake Important for Energy

By Frances Thompson

With the Juan de Fuca strait behind us, so to speak, let's get back to earth. That famous little swimmer was fed energy-giving foods at intervals — otherwise she couldn't have made it. I am not permitted to say (as if I didn't know) what resuscitated her. But the correct use of sugar, my friends, is a very important factor in the diet. At one stage of the game it fell to my happy lot to live in sugar producing countries. Did you know that sugar was at one time treated harshly by medical experts? No, I didn't either.

But it appears, while now recognized as a food, time was when it was looked upon as a poison. Be that as it may, everybody knows it is a very good source of energy [illegible] some rather amusing desserts for the weekend. Incidentally, before we start, will you give a thought to molasses? In the districts where it is manufactured it was once referred to as "mother water" — don't ask me why. But I do know, and I have said this before, that a bottle of molasses on the dinning table might well go alongside the salt and pepper shaker.

[illegible] a teaspoonful of the stuff and you are off to the races. All fooling aside (I said that yesterday) please bear in mind the importance of your sugar intake for energy. The first recipe is expensive. I'm warning you!

FROZEN FRUIT PUDDING
(about 6 servings)

One egg white, ¼ cup liquid honey, ½ pint whipping cream, 1 cup diced fresh peaches. Beat egg white and honey to a stiff meringue. Whip cream and fold it in, then fold in the fruit. Pour the whole thing into the freezing tray and keep until firm.

I call the next one Raspberry Sponge but you can make it with any kind of berry.

RASPBERRY SPONGE
(about 6 servings)

One tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 2 cups berries, ½ cup cold water, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 egg whites, ¼ cup [illegible]

[illegible] water for a few minutes. [illegible] berries and [illegible] water and the [illegible] lemon juice. Now [illegible] the dissolved gelatine. When the mixture begins to thicken [illegible] the stiffly beaten egg whites to which that extra quarter cup sugar has been added. Chill until firm.

And talking of sugar as we are, [illegible] Put [illegible] cup [illegible] bowl and beat with [illegible] beater until soft, then while continuing beating throw in an egg white. Beat until it comes up in peaks. It's hard to explain in words but you know what I [illegible]

A LOVELIER YOU

By Mary Sue Miller

FASHIONS AND FIGURES. However softened, fashion's [illegible] skirt silhouette will not flatter your own unless your legline is smooth and trim. Should you desire to obtain this effect, work on this routine daily:

Lie back down on floor. Raise right leg perpendicular to floor and turn foot in profile. Very slowly lower leg to floor. Repeat with left leg. Alternating, perform 10 times to 20 times. Throughout, be cautious to keep back pressed to floor and abdomen retracted. That whittles hips and tummy, too!

Tight Jackets Spell Elegance In Male Styles

The reason? The clothes modelled were for men.

And there were [illegible] blazers with matching caps, sports shirts with three-quarter sleeves and sheath trousers.

But these clothes are strictly for casual wear; conservative styled suits will still be seen in the office.

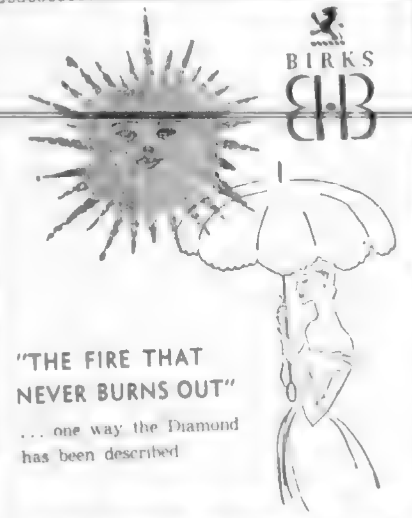

Designers really let themselves go for this fashion show. After all, it's not often they get the chance to get away with styles which remain constant for 10 years or more.

Jackets and windbreakers, for instance, were [illegible] with no shoulder padding. Lapels were long and narrow. Color combinations included stripes of black and [illegible], brown and black, scarlet and white.

Can you imagine [illegible] menfolk in shorts made of denim woven with metal thread? [illegible] not even Bermuda shorts caught on with Canadian men.

Sylvia Ditchburn A Summer Bride

At a candlelight ceremony in St. John's Anglican church yesterday evening, Dr. A. M. Trendell heard marriage vows of Sylvia Carole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ditchburn, and Vernerd Jack Housez, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Housez.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and carnations decorated the church for the double-ring service, at which Mr. J. R. Myers was organist. Mr. Ditchburn gave his daughter in marriage.

For her wedding the bride wore a formal gown with bodice fashioned of Chantilly lace and bouffant skirt of pure silk organza extending into a slight train. The portrait neckline was trimmed with mother of pearl sequins and seed pearls.

A pearl and sequin-trimmed coronet held her chapel veil and she carried a crescent-shaped all-white bouquet of gardenias and carnations.

Her attendants were Miss Patti Jones as maid of honor, Mrs. P. J. Mitchell, bridesmatron and Miss Sandra Gilmour, bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in waltz-length dresses of sapphire blue silk taffeta fashioned on Empire lines with tiny bows as back interest. Their coronets were of white feathered carnations and they wore accessories in tone. White carnations and blue delphiniums formed their cascade bouquets.

Mr. James Sherratt served as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Mr. P. J. Mitchell and Mr. William Watson.

A reception was held in the Georgian room of the Empress hotel, where Dr. S. G. Kenning proposed the toast to the bride.

Later as the couple left for a honeymoon in the interior of British Columbia, Banff and the United States, the bride wore a honey-beige shantung sheath dress with matching duster coat and all-beige accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Housez plan to make their home at 1921 West 13th avenue, Vancouver.

Green-Leask

Baskets of white and blue gladiolus decorated St. John's Anglican church for the wedding ceremony yesterday evening at which Lorraine Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Leask, became the bride of William George Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Green.

Canon George Biddle officiated at the ceremony, for which wedding music was played by Mr. J. R. Myers at the organ. Mr. Leask gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's floor-length hooped wedding gown was designed with long sleeves and high mandarin collar. The bodice and underskirt were of slipper satin and the tiered overskirt was of knife-pleated tulle, with back panel of Chantilly lace.

Her waist-length veil of illusion net was held by a coronet of seed pearls and iridescent sequins and she carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. E. Jones, was matron of honor and wore a pale green princess gown of net over taffeta with matching jacket. With it she wore a floral headband and she carried a fan bouquet of yellow feathered carnations and mauve sweet peas.

As bridesmaid for her sister, Miss Marilyn Leask wore a pale pink princess gown of nylon chiffon with matching stole and floral headband. Her fan-shaped bouquet was of mauve sweet peas and deep pink carnations.

Miss Terry Gibson was flower girl and was dressed in yellow with a band of flowers in her hair. She carried a small basket of yellow daisies, mauve sweet peas and pink carnations.

Mr. Bill Bavoone was best man, and ushers were Mr. Al Coutts and Mr. Terry [illegible].

At a reception at Newstead Hall, Mr. Percy M[illegible] proposed the toast to his niece.

For travelling to Seattle and other points on the mainland, the bride wore a dress of rose beige nylon with matching duster coat, pink picture hat and accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Green plan to make their home in Victoria.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 N T	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
6 ♥	All Pass

Remember the story about the man who applied for a job as sexton and lost out because he could not pass a literacy test? Some years later, returning from the gold fields where he had struck it rich, he marked his "X" as a signature card for the six-figure bank account he was opening. "Ah," commented the awestruck banker, "imagine what you might have become if you could read and write!"

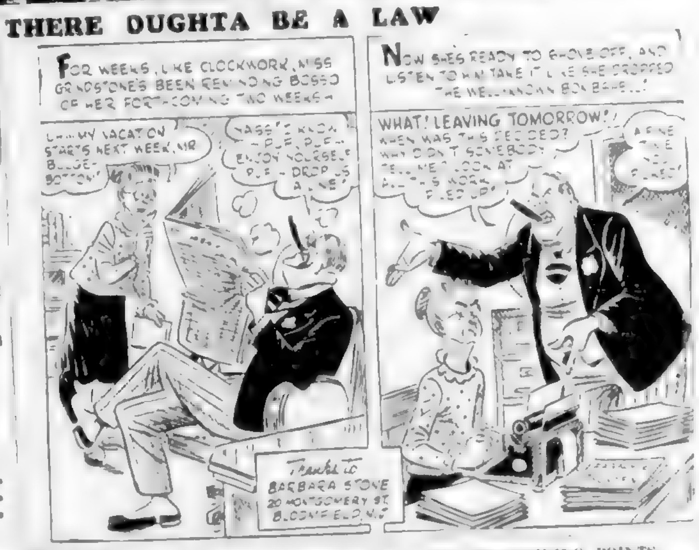

In today's deal South would have stopped at a mere game bid if he had only known a bit more. A sound point-counter would have realized that North's two no-trump response could not include as many as 16 points. Therefore, despite South's extra ace, the combined hands must total fewer than the 33 points that would justify bidding a small slam. Where a more educated South would have been content with game, our declarer made an unwise cuebid in spades, before he got straightened out [illegible] spade ace [illegible] a six [illegible] contract [illegible]

South won [illegible] clubs [illegible] the opening [illegible] diamond play. [illegible] North's [illegible] won. After [illegible] trump [illegible] West [illegible] able to discard his last diamond on the third club and lost only a single spade trick. So West grabbed the diamond ace and if he had observed East's [illegible] he could have broken up what followed next by leading another diamond. However [illegible]

Federal Patrol Finds No Tuna; No Canadian Boats Fishing

Federal fisheries patrol vessel [illegible] Kitimat has been unable to con[illegible] hopes that Canadian fishing [illegible] boats may intercept tuna off the west coast of Vancouver Island. Captain William Earnshaw radioed [illegible] Victoria yesterday.

He said that as far as he can [illegible] Canadian boats are days off Newport, Ore. [illegible] started [illegible] west coast port for that pur[pose] [illegible]

However he said the Kitimat's [illegible] investigation will continue for [illegible] few days and reports will be sent twice daily over the fishermen's radio band.

Captain Earnshaw has confirmed that a large fleet of American boats is catching tuna 100 to 115 miles [illegible] of Grey's Harbor, Wash., and one boat caught 30 tons of tuna in four days off Newport, Ore.

[illegible] when the Anona M III of Vancouver reported tuna off Estevan [illegible] Point, the first tuna along the west coast of the Island for seven years.

WOOD AND SAWDUST

SAWDUST

There is a shortage of wood. Put sawdust burners in now and we will supply you with sawdust the year round. Get your sawdust now. Remember last winter when you had to pay fabulous prices $20 to $25 for 2 units. We are the only company which can keep you supplied all winter. We are handling 70 to 80 units a day and are getting our sawdust from Acme Sawmills, Plumper Bay Sawmills and by the carload from Hillcrest Lumber Co.

2 UNITS BY BLOWER $14.00
2 UNITS BY BLOWER $21.00
2½ UNITS BY BULK $12.50

We recommend Hillcrest Sawdust for all hot ranges and poor draft. It costs only 50 cents more per unit.

WE'VE HAD A GOOD SUMMER

The weather has been nice for folks at the beach and on vacation. Perhaps it has been so considerate you have just felt like enjoying things and relaxing a bit, just shelving and delaying those needed jobs around home. Well remember the long Labor Day weekend is coming—just two weeks away—it's the last long holiday before Daylight Saving ends. Why not plan now to do those necessary home improvement projects? ... to ... of ready cash ... in and see about our Budget Plan ... at home improvement ... plumbing, heating and contractor's labor. Do it soon, though.

Rita Del Mar's Daily Astrology

SATURDAY, AUG. 25

Today's quotation: "A man is not whole and complete unless he owns a house and the ground it stands on. Men are created owners of the earth. Each was intended to possess his piece of it." Walt Whitman.

Saturday for everyone: Make this a routine day; attend to necessities. Be guarded against a tendency to excesses, inharmony hazards. Play safe, exert tact.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Put your best foot forward, don't let others catch you off guard, shun upsets.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Hold everything! Take things slowly, carefully and in your stride. Shun upsets.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Steer a careful course around associates, friends, elders and regarding finances, assets.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Adopt a philosophical attitude. Steer clear of poor judgment, trouble.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Hold your own, be conservative regarding spending. Conserve strength, money.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Be deliberate, painstaking, careful concerning your job, reputation. Be tactful, dutiful.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Maintain a careful balance, don't be caught off guard. Look before leaping.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Adopt a cautious, conservative attitude, especially in connection with money, assets, higher-ups.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Proceed discreetly. Don't force issues, make changes or upset the applecart.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Exert your natural caution, dignity. Reserve decisions, protect health.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Proceed carefully in the handling of funds, possessions, friends, loved ones.

Planning ahead: Good for sociability, entertaining, etc. Aug. 27, 30, 31, Sept. 2, 3, 4, 5, 8.

Absentee Student Does Well

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—New Brunswick educational facilities stretched all the way to Colombo, Ceylon, in the last school year, Wayne Barry, teen-ager from Beaver Harbor, N.B., living in Colombo, took Grade 11 subjects by correspondence in the system offered by the provincial education department.

He achieved honors in the final ... examinations and did well with the first section of the provincial matriculation papers.

His father, Capt. A. R. Barry, has been in Colombo for more than two years, serving with the Canadian fisheries section of the Colombo plan. Capt. Barry skippers the North Star, a Canadian dragger demonstrating modern western fishing methods in Ceylon waters.

The captain's family joined him in Ceylon last year and Wayne, now 17, undertook the correspondence course. His 10-year-old brother is in a public school but his four-year-old sister has had no schooling problems yet.

Wayne returned alone to Canada recently and is visiting relatives at Saint John. He plans to finish his high school education at Beaver Harbor. The family is expected back next year.

Recaptured Here

Two runaways from the girls' industrial home in Burnaby were recaptured here Thursday night, standing with suitcases in their hands at the corner of Richmond and Crescent roads.

All Comforts of Home and Then Some

Helicopter is shown after landing on deck of "executive flagship"—world's largest home on wheels. When not in use as heliport, deck dons awning and becomes sun deck. The $75,000, self-propelled rolling home is also equipped with radio-telephone, air-conditioning, television, bath facilities and a portable swimming pool, part of which may be seen at left. It is on display in New York.—(CPC)

Dirty-Feeted Tourists

Fountain Footsie Riling Romans

ROME (Reuters)—Romans are showing signs of losing their tempers at the growing practice among foreign tourists of washing their feet in the Eternal City's most majestic fountains.

Newspapers are calling for police action.

One "very respectable looking" English couple clad in shorts and shirts were reported by a Rome newspaper to have plunged headfirst into the magnificent fontana Esedra, in the centre of one of the city's grandest piazzas.

EMERGED DRIPPING

They wallowed among the goldfish and marble sea-nymphs for a while, then emerged dripping but refreshed on a hot day, and walked away.

Another group of unidentified tourists shocked Romans when they chose one of the two fountains in St. Peter's Square (in front of the basilica) in which to wash their hands, faces and feet—and then gave their cars a washdown in the same solemn setting.

Other tourists have been rolling up their trousers or lifting their skirts and soaking their feet in the "fountain of the Triton," built by Bernini in the centre of one of Rome's busiest squares.

THREE COINS FAME

The waters of the Fontana di Trevi (of Three Coins in the Fountain fame) have been particularly favored.

Il Momento Sera declared: "The feet-washers seem to have forgotten that they are visitors to one of the most beautiful and civilized cities in the world. Their antics shock and offend us."

New Officers

Two probationary constables have been made permanent members of the city police force.

R. G. Short and C. L. Dobson were promoted to third class constables yesterday by the police commission.
